U.S. PUTS HUGE MISSILE IN ORBIT

Atlas' Success Boosts U.S. Military and Scientific Prestige

'DECK THE HALLS WITH BOUGHS OF HOLLY' and other Christmas carols resounded through many a city and county school building today as scenes like this marked the final day of class before Christmas vacation. City public and parochial schools were dismissed this afternoon as were all county schools except those in the Ridgedale system. They will be dismissed Tuesday. All city and county schools except Martel will resume classes Jan. 5. Martel students will return to classes Dec. 29. Looking up in admiration at the majestic tree in Vernon's main hall as they sing carols are youngsters from grades one and two. Seated (left to right) are: Patty Bray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bray of 641 Lark St.; Cynthia Howard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Howard of 889 Leetonia Rd.; John Gibbon, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Gibbon of 358 Bradford St., and Cynthia Ehrman, daughter of Mrs. George Ehrman of 565 Vernon Heights Blvd. Standing (left to right) are: Kenneth Edington Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Edington of 511 Forest St.; Stephen Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edwards of 589 Forest St.; Janet Reid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reid of 156 Carhart St.; Robert Averill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Averill of 629 E. Church St.; Danny Dodds, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Dodds of 575 Forest St.; Shelley Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Young of 277 Summit St.; Mike Peters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Peters of 229 Summit St., and Pamela Cleveland, daughter of Mrs. Clifford Bowman of 477 Indiana Ave.

Shot Carries Significance In Cold War

Startling Comeback Restores West's Stand In Race With Russia

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's scientific and military prestige, a key element in the cold war, rebounded high today from the lows of double disaster a year ago.

A mighty U. S. Atlas rocket roared into orbit around the earth Thursday night. It became a satellite weighing between 8,700 and 8,800 pounds—three times heavier than the biggest Soviet Sputnik.

That was a comparison easily understood by the man in the street in London, Moscow and New Delhi.

Carries Broad Significance

It carried significance too for the military officer and government official: the United States had a missile with power and control to dump a nuclear warhead on a target on another continent.

Of such stuff is made prestige that can bolster friends, give pause to enemies and nudge the vital in-betweeners who want to lean with the winning side.

The U. S. comeback seemed incredible in view of the shattering Soviet success starting with Sputnik I Oct. 4, 1957, a Pearl Harbor Day for U. S. prestige.

On Nov. 3 the Russians threw into orbit Sputnik II, carrying little dog Laika. The weight this time: a half ton.

U. S. Off to Poor Start

On Dec. 6, Pearl Harbor Day again so far as U. S. prestige was concerned, America's first satellite-bearing rocket—a Navy Vanguard—blew up on its launching pad.

Not until Jan. 31 of this year did the United States get its first foot in the satellite race. But the Army's Explorer I weighed only

4-Ton ICBM Is Biggest To Circle Earth

Pullman Car-Sized Satellite Twice as Big As Soviet Sputnik III

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. rocketmen hurled a four-ton satellite into orbit around the earth Thursday night in a giant stride toward outer space and man's mastery there.

The feat, dramatically announced by President Eisenhower at a White House diplomatic dinner, gave this country the biggest known manmade object now swinging around the planet. The new Pullman car-size satellite dwarfs the 2,919 pounds of Russia's Sputnik III launched last May 15. It comes close to, or surpasses the bulk of the Soviet carrier rocket which went separately into orbit but plunged to its death Dec. 7.

Other Key Features

But even more significant from the rocketmen's viewpoint are two other features:

The space traveler, dubbed "Operation Score," carries two-way communications which promise untold practical benefits for the future.

And it was pointed into its path by an internal guidance system, rather than being sent on a preset course like a bullet—a long step toward true space navigation.

Triumphant over the success of their project, American scientists quickly raised their space sights. They began talking about putting a man aboard another such vehicle and sending it to Venus or Mars.

President Eisenhower called it "a distinct step forward... (which) opens new opportunities to the United States and all mankind." The Pentagon echoed his words, accenting the peaceful aspects of launching a satellite the size of a Pullman car.

Military Angle Noted

But early comment from members of Congress indicated a preference to dwell on what it means in military terms.

And even in Moscow, celebrating the 3,000th orbiting of Sputnik III, man-in-the-street reaction was favorable. American reporters, bereft of any official comment, approached a cab driver who said: "Good. It gives us competition."

Eisenhower broke the news dramatically at a White House state dinner for diplomats. White House press secretary James C. Hagerty and Pentagon officials spread the word to reporters and the world.

The Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile was launched at 6:02 p.m. Thursday from Cape Canaveral, Fla. The whole thing, 85 feet long and 10 feet wide, went into orbit.

It is the biggest known man-made object swinging around the globe. Its weight, between 8,700 and 8,800 pounds, nearly trebles

Will Explain Program at Series of Meetings

County Board Shooting for Vote Next Fall on Creating One School District

On Jan. 6, probably at LaRue, the Marion County Board of Education will begin a series of meetings with each of the 10 local boards in the county for the purpose of presenting and discussing the recently completed reorganizational survey made for the county by the Bureau of Educational Research of Ohio State University.

This was the upshot of a lengthy meeting of the county board Thursday night in the office of D. T. Mills, superintendent of schools.

BOARD MEMBERS expressed the hope of placing the survey's principal recommendation — creation of one countywide school district — on the ballot in the fall of 1959. A second major recommendation of the survey was establishment of three high schools to serve students in the one big district. This would involve building of two new high schools. Existing buildings would be improved as necessary and would serve as elementary and intermediate schools.

County board members agreed to sit down with individual boards on each Tuesday and Thursday nights beginning Jan. 6. LaRue was tentatively slated for the initial session since it lies the farthest from Marion. The meetings will be set up by Mr. Mills and the presidents of the 10 local boards.

THIS IS THE first step planned by the county organization toward getting across the contents of the survey.

Following the smaller get-togethers, a session of the county board with all 10 local boards is planned.

Ralph Howard, board president, pointed out that the smaller meetings will be for the express purpose of reviewing the contents of the comprehensive survey.

"A good many men worked on this proposition and their findings are adequately covered in this report," he declared.

The board spent $3,000 to have the survey taken, the decision to do so precipitated by letters received from most of the local schools requesting that such a long-range outlook be undertaken.

The survey recommended among other things, the establishment of a three high school system, using the new Ridgedale school for one and providing for the building of two others, one along State Rt. 98 between U.S. Rt. 30-S and State Rt. 95 and another somewhere near the intersection of State Rts. 4 and 203.

It recommended the establishment of junior high school programs at the Claridon, Pleasant and LaRue Schools, and maintenance of elementary centers at all schools where they are presently located.

C. J. ROBERTS voiced the general thinking of the board, with regard to the pending meetings, by noting that "we have $3,000 wrapped up in this report, a report accomplished only after painstaking and exhaustive research. This, in the opinion of these university experts, is what this county can best do to enhance its educational provisions and standards for the years to come."

If the vote on the one-district plan is favorable, the board will subsequently appoint a group to operate the new consolidated district until the following regular election, at which time residents of the county would select board members for the district.

In other business Thursday, Mr. Mills was authorized to contact William Knepper, of the Columbus law firm of Knepper, White, Richards, Miller and Roberts, for an opinion on the legality of an injunction involving petitions for the transfer of portions of the Marion local district to Marion City.

The petitions were filed with the county board in 1953, shortly after the board moved to comply with an Ohio law ordering dissolution of any school district not operating a school.

However, suits filed by the old Marion local board and taxpayers held up the transfers. Last week, the last of these suits against the county board was dropped, ending.

Only 35 Knew Orbit Shot Was Goal in Firing

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Only 35 men knew that an Atlas missile would be shot into orbit until three hours before the spectacular launching.

"We called the 35 members of The Club," said B. G. MacNabb, a fiery Scot who is operations manager.

"There are 940 fine men working for Convair at the Cape and only three of them knew about the satellite launching—even after the final button was pressed and the missile was launched," MacNabb said.

Among those who had to receive the advance word was the range safety officer, whose duty is to destroy the missile if it strays off course. Crewmen manning tracking stations for tracking the missile had to be notified three hours in advance.

One of the important operations of a regular Atlas shoot is the impact prediction chart at central control. It tells where the missile will land.

Personnel in central control were infuriated when one unidentified crewman stood in front of the chart and blocked the view of observers at a critical moment. It was all part of the act.

Human Flight Nearer

Big Strides Taken In Space Conquest

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Atlas' triumph brings human space flight and astounding space laboratories a big step closer.

Sprung from well-kept secrecy, it could spur the Russians to push harder and faster in their always secret space plans.

Just 14½ months ago, man was still earthbound. Then Sputnik I startled, and shocked, the Western world.

Now the United States has scored a prodigious comeback. It possesses the heaviest as well as the most satellites. It has sent two probes nearly a third of the way to the moon.

Temporarily, America leads.

New Soviet Move Expected

But the Soviet Union could play the next trump soon. Indeed, some space experts are puzzled why she hasn't done something spectacular since the 1½-ton Sputnik soared up last May.

The main significance of Atlas is in advancing the ability accurately to thrust big and heavy satellites into space.

Big enough to carry men.

Big enough to watch the world's weather in the making through TV eyes, tracking hurricanes, vastly improving forecasts.

Or act as great communications centers, instantaneously relaying a vast volume of cables, "mail" and TV shows to any point on earth.

Or to carry telescopes seeing our universe with awesome and rewarding new clarity, undisturbed by the earth's shimmering air.

Scientists Eager

All these are eagerly anticipated by scientists.

The Atlas missile will be a main workhorse toward these goals until far more powerful rockets are developed.

Atlas, with smaller rockets staged atop it, could also launch instrumented probes investigating Venus and Mars, or going into orbit as artificial planets of the sun. Shots for Venus and Mars are among U. S. current plans.

Before man looks down at earth from a sky perch, much hard work remains to be done.

We must learn how to recover the protective, well-stocked capsule that can sustain his life within a satellite. Re-entry and medical problems of survival are being vigorously studied.

Rockets and controls must become reliable enough to give any volunteer a really good chance of making the round-trip.

Shovel, Union Meet

Negotiators for the Marion Power Shovel Co. and Local 1949, United Steel Workers, were called to an afternoon meeting today by a federal mediator. It is their first meeting since the union rejected a company wage offer Friday.

The strike of Local 1949 against the company's W. Center St. plant entered its 14th week Tuesday.

Smith Resigns As Member of Hospital Board

The resignation of Dr. Frederick G. Smith from the board of governors of Marion General Hospital was submitted at the regular meeting of the board Thursday night.

In other business, the board accepted appointments to fill two vacancies on the board and re-appointed Miss Irene Tinklepaugh as hospital administrator for the coming year.

Mayor Wendell L. Strong, chairman of the board, said today that he was handed a letter containing Dr. Smith's resignation at the meeting last night and that he has not accepted it pending a talk with Dr. Smith.

In his letter, Dr. Smith said that he was resigning because of the pressure of personal business and professional matters, the mayor reported.

Dr. Smith was appointed to the board on Nov. 19, 1955, by Mayor Harold F. Robinson and his four-year term would have expired next Nov. 18.

The two new appointments approved by the board were: George Bosley Jr., 38, of Morral, who was appointed last month by the county commissioners, and John Makeever, 49, of 374 Olney Ave.,

On Give-a-Christmas List

Some in City Would Be Cheered Merely by Visit

Just a friendly visit and a small remembrance to dispel the loneliness of the Christmas season —this is the gift being requested for 110 old folks by the Give-a-Christmas Clearinghouse.

Alone in the world, these oldsters are like players in a great drama who have been left and forgotten backstage.

Gayly laughing children dart past their doors, men and women carrying great bundles of Christmas packages rush by briskly, exchanging holiday greetings to those they meet. But no one stops at the doorstep of these lonely folks.

A typical example is Miss G., who lives in one room by herself. Her elderly mother became so feeble that she recently was moved to a rest home.

Adjusting to being alone has not been easy for Miss G., especially because of her bad eyesight.

Until recently she was able to sew ironing board covers. But her eyes no longer can follow the needle. She receives an Aid for the Blind pension, but it merely covers her necessities.

Yet this little old lady asks for nothing, declaring that others need to be remembered more than she. A kind remembrance such as fruit or a personal gift delivered during a visit would cheer her greatly.

Since his elderly mother died, Mr. H. has lived alone in a small

Accuracy Provides Advantages

Atlas Is Termed Missile 'With Hunter's Instinct'

By JOHN BARBOUR
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Atlas is a missile with the instinct of a hunter.

It can—and Thursday night it did—steer into an orbit in chartless space.

Perhaps, as unofficial sources report, it can be a superaccurate military missile as well.

In fact, an industry source has indicated an Atlas can strike close to target—perhaps within a mile—at the end of a 6,000-mile flight.

The 85-foot missile made its first intercontinental trip just 22 days ago—spanning 6,325 miles from Cape Canaveral, Fla., to the coastal area of Africa.

Thursday night the Defense Department called the November feat a precise demonstration of intercontinental capability for distances of more than 6,000 miles.

The Atlas probably costs something like two million dollars.

In spite of its enormous size, it is said to be so delicate that you can drive a hammer into it with a good solid blow. Its thin walls act not only as fuselage, but also as fuel tanks.

Loaded for its space duties, it weighs about 122 tons.

The missile stands on concrete pedestals well over two stories high. Through these pedestals bends a long funnel—a sort of

Judge Studies Motion From 7 For New Trial

CLEVELAND (AP) — Federal Judge Paul C. Weick had under advisement today a motion for a new trial for seven persons convicted last January of conspiring to file false non-communist affidavits with the National Labor Relations Board.

The defense concluded its case Thursday.

The seven principals in the case are appealing 18-month prison sentences and fines of $2,500 each. Should Judge Weick uphold the new trial motion, then the U. S. Court of Appeals in Cincinnati would have to remand the case to this district court before his decision could be entered.

All seven persons appealing are free on bond. They are Marie Reed Haug and her husband, Fred, and Hyman Lumer, all of Cleveland; Eric Reinthaler of Willowick; James West and Sam Reed of Chicago; and Andrew Remes of Brooklyn, N. Y.

The new trial motion was based on allegations that the chief government witness in the trial a year ago, Fred L. Gardner, had lied when he said he never was in military service and when he said he was divorced in 1945. Evidence was introduced to show Gardner went absent without leave from the Army in 1926 and that he entered into a common law marriage the year before his divorce in 1946.

Providence, R. I., received its name from Roger Williams who said the city was founded "in commemoration of God's merciful providence."

Ridgedale High School Music Groups Plan Concert Monday

The ninth grade choir, the senior choir and the concert band will combine in presenting the annual Christmas concert at Ridgedale High School Monday at 8 p.m.

The program will open with an organ prelude played by Barbara Myers. Among numbers to be sung by the 33-voice ninth grade choir will be: "As Lately We Watched" with organ accompaniment; "Silver Bells," with Florence Hite playing piano accompaniment, and "Go Tell It on the Mountain."

"Sing the Glad Tidings" will be the opening number of the senior choir. The number will include organ and piano accompaniment. Joyce Hite is pianist for the senior choir.

The 58-member group also will present "I Wonder as I Wander," featuring Sue Grover, Su Weir and Jean Lyon as soprano soloists.

In "Cantique de Noel" Lynn Lovell, a member of the concert band, will play the solo interlude for trumpet. The final senior choral selection will be an English carol entitled "I Wish You a Merry Christmas."

Joining with the two vocal groups in presenting the "Hallelujah Chorus" will be former members of the Ridgedale Choir, organized in 1957.

The concert band will be heard in "Sleigh Ride," "O Come, Come, Emanuel," with Lynn Lovell as trumpet soloist, "The Sleep of the Child Jesus," featuring Barbara Myers in a clarinet solo, "Ring Christmas Bells," "Willie Play Your Little Drum" and "Old English Christmas," among others.

The program, open to the public free of charge, will be directed by Mrs. DeMeril Stanbro, vocal music instructor, and Robert Paxton, instrumental music instructor.

Woman in Cincinnati Burns to Death in Fire

CINCINNATI (AP)—A 74-year-old woman burned to death here Thursday night after she apparently ran back into her burning apartment to get her Bible.

Mrs. Bessie Brown was clutching her Bible in her right hand when firemen found her charred body.

The fire drove 12 families from the building. Two men, trapped in their apartments by smoke and flames, were rescued unhurt by firemen.

Santa Should Know

ARKANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — Here's how a young Junior Chamber of Commerce Santa Claus fared with a little girl:

"I have a doggy," she volunteered.

"That's nice," Santa said. "What kind of doggy?"

She hesitated, then: "Well, don't you remember? You brought him to me last Christmas."

Bids for New Talks

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—An Electric Auto-Lite Co. spokesman voiced a hope today that negotiations could resume on a company-wide basis this weekend in an effort to end a strike at 11 of the firm's plants.

Local issues have been a barrier to negotiation of a master agreement in the three-week-old walkout by United Auto Workers members. Bargaining has been going on to dispose of the disputes and grievances at separate plants.

Friday fare: Sillet-fried patties made with canned salmon and served with cream sauce and a garnish of hard-cooked egg slices and minced parsley or chives.

Four members were elected to the board of directors: James Lippert, Edward J. Marinik, Gene Kline and Robert Folmsbee.

It was announced at the meeting that Robert Smith, 20-30 Club representative to Marion Interclub Council, was elected president of the council at its meeting Wednesday noon at the "Y."

Final plans were made for the club's annual New Year's Eve dance and funds to help a needy family were approved. Twenty-five members and one guest, Jack L. Berringer, were present.

R. F. Williams Tells Kiwanis Of Trip to Cuba

Robert F. Williams, president of Marion Kiwanis Club, was principal speaker at the club meeting Thursday noon at Hotel Harding. He spoke on his trip to Cuba with Methodist ministers and laymen to visit churches there.

During the trip, Mr. William's and a companion were captured by rebel forces and put in jail, after he was mistaken for a Life photographer. His companion had been scheduled to speak at a meeting the same day and when he failed to appear, searchers were sent out and Mr. Williams and his companion were released.

Mr. Williams also showed slides taken on the trip. He pointed out comparisions of the modern city of Havana with the primitive conditions of the surrounding area.

Smith Witter, vice president, presided for the meeting. Christmas carols were led by L. G. Jones with Richard Myers as accompanist.

Guests were Merle Zieg, William Young and Gordon Dunn of Marion and William Kersker of Columbus.

Vacation Begins

CRESTLINE — Christmas vacation for children in the Crestline Puublic schools and St. Joseph's parochial school began this afternoon at the regular dismissal time. Classes will resume Monday, Jan. 5.

Russell C. Snare, bank president, offered greetings and Ralph E. Carhart, a guest, recited the Christmas Story. A five-piece ensemble from Harding High School provided dinner music. Other musical selections were played by Mrs. Freda Yinger, Mrs. Marilyn Peak, Mrs. Virginia Kohler, Bud Yinger and Oscar Kaelber.

The event was attended by some 75 persons, including employes, their families and guests.

What About the Rough Streets?

The horrible condition of Marion's streets will be the most pressing civic improvement problem facing this city at the beginning of 1959.

There may be projects of wider scope and greater long-range importance.

If fortune finally smiles the state-assisted one-way street program may be instituted.

A city income tax certainly will be considered.

Who knows, another effort to obtain a charter government with a city manager may return to the spotlight?

The income tax and charter will require a great deal more study, which will take time.

The one-way streets are a big undertaking but shouldn't call for much further deliberation because we're already two years late in adopting them.

The city streets not affected by the first phase of the master traffic plan do not constitute a full-scale community project in the sense that there should be controversy about them. Hence, there should be no delay.

Certainly, no one is in favor of r o u g h streets.

If they are rough they should be repaired or rebuilt. And many of them are plenty rough.

So what is the city going to do about them? And when?

This sort of question soon will bring us down to the old story of leadership — is it to be provided by the administration or council?

The current council has done, in the main, an excellent job of carrying the ball on major civic projects without worrying too much about the technicalities of leadership.

There are certain limits beyond which council cannot go without administrative assistance, however, and the street problem may be one of them.

No pronouncements have come from the mayor's office, or the council street and alleys committee, on ways and means to set up a street repair program.

Apparently there is not enough money in the coffers to finance the work.

So, are we going to "solve" the problem by ignoring it?

We've had far too much of that already.

It Costs Money To Lose, Too

The financial arrangements for covering the cost of the losing campaign to ban compulsory unionism in Ohio were on a large scale and considerably out of the ordinary.

But now that the pertinent facts have been related to Secretary of State Brown, it is well for Ohioans to remember two things about the campaign to ban compulsory unionism — the right-to-work issue.

It costs money to lose these things, too. The side that doesn't win works just as hard in the hope of winning as the side that brings home the bacon.

The Committee for Proposal No. 2 Inc. has filed expenses of $762,543, with individual contributions of only $72,923. The rest was covered by Ohio Chamber of Commerce and Ohio Manufacturers Assn. According to a report filed with the secretary of state, the two organizations committed a large part of their reserves to cover campaign costs when it became evident the showdown was in danger of being lost for lack of ready cash.

As it turned out, they might as well have defaulted.

But if it costs money to lose one of these things, it costs money to win, too.

The rub is that no one ever will know just how much the winning side put on the line.

Ohio and California were the battlefields in a do-or-die effort to save the union shop. If the battle could be won in these two states, it would not be worth carrying into any other industrial states.

By the same token, if compulsory unionism could be banned in Ohio and California, it probably could be banned in all other industrial states.

The two sides were not fighting over peanuts.

If it cost better than three-quarters of a million to lose on Issue No. 2, it cost that much or more to win — much more, in all probability.

But by hammering on how much it cost to lose, the winners may be able to leave the permanent impression that they carried the day with nothing more tangible than enthusiasm.

How Old-Fashioned Do You Want To Be?

In years to come, weather reporters will mark the year 1958 for ready reference.

It had the wettest summer since the mind of man runneth not to the contrary and the coldest December, barring the possibility of a heat wave between now and the end of the year.

Though it is unclear why so many people think of weather extremes when they long for old-fashioned winters, it is perfectly clear that if to be old-fashioned is to be unpleasant, the year 1958 is destined to be as old-fashioned weather-wise, as anyone could want to be.

But it is a good guess the young sprouts who will grow up to become the old gaffers who reminisce about the dear dead days will not put any special emphasis on 1958 weather in their reminiscences. Weather is not as important as it used to be, either to sprouts or gaffers.

What they remembered about "old-fashioned winters" was more personal than statistical. They remembered how cold bedrooms used to be, how pumps froze up, what it was like to ride in sleighs and unheated cars and how deep the snow was before highways and streets were plowed bare and treated with salt and grit. They remembered how tough it was to keep warm before better-designed clothing gave nature a helping hand.

As always has been true of recollections about home-cooking, their memories played them false; they remembered only personal experiences, not general facts. And they remembered nothing about weather statistics. Even now, in the midst of the most savage December since 1876, old-timers are not particularly impressed.

You should have been around, bub, when this part of the country used to have old-fashioned. . . . etc.

Science! Help!

If Science can spare a few seconds of atom-measured time from its chores with fission, fusion, synthetics and fumadiddle, there is a project one of its Class III geniuses should be able to polish off in a day or two.

Motorists are always skidding off highways in accidents where no witnesses are present and getting caught in wreckage that no one sees. They bleed to death sometimes. In cruelly cold weather, they could freeze to death before anyone found them. In one instance recently, a woman was trapped in water up to her waist in a car that had run off a pier.

The point is that if no one else is involved in the accident and no one sees the wreckage, the victim has about as much chance of being discovered as if he were stranded in a desert.

Any Class III genius who could take a day off from the engrossing business of changing nature to suit man should be able to rig up an emergency horn that would short out whenever there was a sudden jar and keep on blowing until turned off or the battery was exhausted.

It wouldn't be fool-proof, but it would attract attention in most circumstances. Whenever a horn shorts out accidentally and begins to blow in a parking lot, it always attracts attention — and this would be the same idea.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

VIRGINIA AND THE SALESGIRL

Dear Friend: I am eight years old. Some of my friends say there is no Santa Claus. Popper and mommer say a department store salesgirl should know. Virginia.

YOUR LITTLE FRIENDS are mistaken. Take it from me, and my associates. Fifty million salesgirls can't be wrong. If there ain't no Santa how come I ache all over?

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as my flat feet and backache exist.

Your little friends might as well tell a letter carrier there is no Santa Claus. He exists in the hearts and minds of 150 million Americans, so who am I to argue?

Not believe in Santa? You might as well not believe in fallen arches, nervous breakdowns, and arguments with floorwalkers and customers.

Your friends might watch all the chimneys on Christmas Eve, but if they did not see Santa it would prove nothing. They would do better watching salesgirls.

They don't see Santa, but all those guys in red suits with their whiskers on crooked must be representing him.

YOU MIGHT AS WELL say, Virginia, that because you have never seen Mary Martin there is no Peter Pan.

Your little friends may tell you there is no Prince Charming, as in the Cinderella fairy tale but if that is so how come so many girls fight their way to balls and dancers. They do not say there is no Arthur Murray just because they never met him.

No Santa! A thousand years from now he will continue to be the big man, all through Yuletide. And he will feel no older than any salesgirl. I must have lived 999 years in the last 10 days.

I would quit, Virginia, if I did not want to do my bit to make glad the heart of childhood. Tell your little friends I know more about Santa than they ever will. Your pop and mom were smart in telling you to take it up with me.

BACK HOME STUFF. Hillhouse and Boardman High Schools, where we went as a kid, are no more. The bulldozers and steam-shovels got 'em. Webster Grammar at York and George Street, where "Jack" Lewis presided as principal and kept rigid discipline, using a strap when necessary, is gone with the wind, too.

He looked like Robert E. Lee and when he opened the desk drawer, took out a strap, and said, "Hold out your hand," and let you have 20 whacks, he had the effect of one of Lee's best regiments. We got it often in the age when nobody thought discipline was bad for kids.

Few youngsters dreamt of complaining to parents, as it was a day when grownups felt that if their offspring got a paddling he deserved it.

Let Me Take You Away . . .

Dulles' Victories

By David Lawrence

Why did Premier Khrushchev start a crisis over Berlin? Why does he carry his nation to the brink of war?

Lawrence

The mystery has not yet been solved, and it may take a flat warning to the Soviet premier — that force will be used by the West to bring a showdown.

Many people, of course, have been assuming that it's all a Soviet bluff and that no war could possibly ensue.

History tells us that such wishful thinking is often wrong and that when war is least expected—after everyone assumes it isn't coming — something untoward happens and really forces the final crisis for everybody. Up to the day World War II broke out, there were confident expressions abroad that it just couldn't and wouldn't happen.

Most observers today rationalize that war would be too horrible for anybody deliberately to start. But with troops and nuclear weapons actually mobilized on a war basis by both sides in the vicinity of Berlin, a tragic incident could be precipitated at any moment.

SECRETARY DULLES has just said to the NATO Council in Paris "I am quite certain the Soviet Union will not risk war over Berlin. Therefore we can proceed with confidence."

But it's Mr. Khrushchev's game to make the western allies think he will stop at nothing to get them out of Berlin.

For several weeks now the inside talk among high governmental officials in Washington and in United Nations circles in New York has emphasized one comment: "The Soviets are getting tougher than ever before."

The technique of toughness is a familiar one in diplomacy. Dictatorships use it shrewdly as a means of bargaining. It is not at all risky to be tough with democracies — they are resilient to the influences of a public opinion which, wishing to avoid war at all costs, gives the impression of being willing to negotiate almost everything. This often implies a possible surrender.

One of the reasons why Secretary of State Dulles is so unpopular with the appeasers and peace-at-any-price exponents is that, through a lifetime of experience in diplomacy, he knows softness is dangerous and, in the end, would bring on the very war that everyone wanted to prevent.

MR. DULLES will be remembered in history as the "man with guts" who stood up to the Communists everywhere. He was jumped upon a few months ago by the timid and the partisanly political when he stood up courageously to the Communists in the Far East, refusing to be bluffed on the Quemoy-Matsu episode.

Events since have proved he was right. The Communists didn't dare to precipitate a Far Eastern war. Little is being said now of the Dulles triumph in that part of the world, but it is the significant happening of the year 1958 in the international field.

It is worth noting, incidentally, that some of the same Democratic senators who could not understand what Quemoy meant as a symbol of freedom in the Far East are today saying with respect to Berlin that it cannot be surrendered because it is a symbol of freedom to Western Germany.

Berlin is 100 miles within the Iron Curtain as contrasted with the few miles that Quemoy lies off the Red China coast. Almost every word being said generally now for holding Berlin was being said by the President and Secretary Dulles as an argument for holding on to Quemoy because of its importance to the cause of the Chinese Nationalists.

Mr. Dulles is confident that, if the West maintains a firm policy with respect to Berlin, the Communists will be dissuaded from precipitating a general war.

Everyone here hopes he will be proved right, but the world knows little of what is back of the Khrushchev move and just what strategy he has in mind.

Help the Old Kid

By Truman Twill

"Remember to wink at a homely girl for my sake," was to become one of the late H. L. Mencken's quotable remarks.

What H. L. was driving at was the neglect of homely girls, who stand in as much need of attention as the beautiful ones.

It was a warm-hearted thing for the hard-boiled sage of Baltimore to think of, even though it missed the mark a little, as Harry Golden pointed out in his essay on it in "Only in America."

Golden says anyone who knows the score can testify to as the truth that homely girls do a little better than can be expected, because there are, in effect, no girls so homely they cannot conceal their handicap with charm—and homely girls never miss a trick.

But it is not the truth of the Menckenese point of view on giving a boost to the morale of homely girls that is involved here so much as the Menckenese point of view on remembering the neglected.

"Remember each Christmas to give the man of the house a hook-and-ladder truck for his lost youth's sake." Here is the same theme but a different sermon.

The most neglected character on the premises, come Christmas, is the adult male, who is supposed to exult about his pretty socks, neckties, sweaters, shirts, pajamas, gloves etc. that he would have bought for himself if he had thought he needed them.

He puts up a brave front, gravy stains and all, but underneath his ticker is aching for the gee-gaws, gimcracks and hoot-nannies he wants and never gets at Christmas.

Everybody else gets that stuff—the impractical, foolish, funny, silly, inconsequential clutter that makes the difference between Merry Christmas and a clearance sale of staple items. Especially the kids. And more especially the boy kids, which is what the grown male is at heart.

He gets fed to his teeth with useful stuff for Christmas. What he wants is something he can enjoy — a popgun, a rattle decorated with silhouettes of bosomy babes, or a construction set so he can build a model of a guillotine.

Or a steam engine, a motorcycle, a scooter, a hook-and-ladder truck, or a red wagon. Or a walkie-talkie, a wood-burning set, a dingus that makes enough noise to wake the dead, or a do-it-yourself kit to become a parlor magician and amaze his friends.

Or a silly game he can play with no skill and no brains, a chemistry set to blow up the house, a hobby horse, a cowboy suit, a new football, or a first-baseman's mitt.

Otherwise, the useful stuff he will get will bring a smile to his face and an ache to his heart. If by chance someone else does get the things he wants, he will move in under them and preempt their treasures, causing hurt feelings.

Give the man around the house something foolish to hold his attention and gladden his spirits this Christmas. He will use all the useful stuff he will get, but give the old kid something to enjoy. He deserves it.

1959 To Be Busy Year

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Until Thursday night's Atlas firing, the past few weeks in Washington have been the dullest in years.

But come January things will be popping on both the congressional and diplomatic fronts.

In the Senate some Northern Democrats and Republicans will start a fight to make it easier to smash a filibuster. This means a quarrel with Southern Democrats, probably a bitter one.

In the House, Southern Democrats will be in another fight: over a committee recommendation to bar an Arkansas segregationist, Dr. Dale Alford of Little Rock, from taking the seat now held by Rep. Brooks Hays (D-A Ark). Alford was elected over Hays by a write-in vote.

SENATE REPUBLICANS will be having a family battle. A batch of Republicans, who consider themselves more progressive than their present Senate leaders, will try to take over.

The political sharpshooting will get off to a running start in early January when President Eisenhower dumps his State of the Union message in the lap of Congress. This message sets forth his program for 1959.

Democrats will be tearing into this all year. Since Eisenhower insists he wants to keep down spending, his program is bound to be fairly conservative. You can be sure that the Democrats will say the program doesn't go far enough.

NOT LONG AFTER his State of the Union message, Eisenhower will send Congress his budget for the fiscal yearing starting next July 1. This is his estimate of how much he thinks the government should spend next year. There'll be sparring over that all year.

Yet all this may seem like small potatoes compared with what happens abroad as the new year unfolds.

It will be up to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to make good on his promise about Berlin, or back down, or make the Western Allies back down.

He's promised to pull Soviet troops out of East Berlin and warned the Allies to get theirs out of West Berlin before June, or else. He was pretty ugly about the else.

BUT THIS WEEK the Allies, meeting in Paris, said: We'll take our chance on else. They announced they'd stand firm on not abandoning Berlin. In this they had the urging and blessing of West Germany.

This could — unless one side or the other gets wobbly knees — turn into a nasty situation. It's up to the Russians now to show how far they are willing to go.

The Middle East shouldn't be overlooked in any list of things to come. It's moderately quiet now. It never stays quiet long. At the moment the most likely spot for an explosion looks like Iraq.

The revolt there a few months ago overthrew the government, killed the King, badly weakened Iraq's ties with the West. And Communists there seem to be growing ever stronger.

IF THE REDS should take over in Iraq, the Soviet Union, without firing a shot, will have made the greatest leap in its history into the Middle East.

It's practically wishful thinking to suppose the Red Chinese will stay quiet indefinitely. They're fairly quiet now. But just a few weeks ago they were jittering the world with their bombardment of Quemoy.

Perhaps, meanwhile, the long journey of one man will help spread oil on the troubled international sea. Anastas I. Mikoyan, second only to Khrushchev in the Soviet leadership, is coming to Washington in the months immediately ahead.

The Russians asked this week for permission for him to come here. The State Department approved. The given reason for his expedition — that he wanted to visit the Soviet ambassador here — looks thin.

Mikoyan's real mission may be as Khrushchev's special envoy to Eisenhower.

Laugh Master

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

It takes a real laugh master to retain the true comedy touch for three decades.

One who has never lost his skill at tickling the national funnybone is Hollywood director, Leo McCarey.

HAL BOYLE

"I'm accused of being the laziest man in the business," said Leo, who has a weatherbeaten face and dark snapping eyes. "In over 30 years I've only made about 25 pictures. Some men in that time have turned out 200, or even 300."

BUT McCAREY has won three Oscars and been nominated for two more. And his roster of films include such landmarks as "The Awful Truth," "Ruggles of Red Gap," "My Favorite Wife," "Indiscreet," "Going My Way," and "The Bells of St. Mary's."

Leo over the years has been one of Hollywood's top money earners.

He has a great gift for friendship, and his friends have ranged from Jack Dempsey and the late Jack Barrymore to a host of colorful unknowns, in practically every walk of life.

An associate said this is McCarey's unspoken creed: "Never go up the hill alone."

Son of a famous West Coast boxing promoter, Leo became a lawyer and still brags he retired from active practice with a perfect record: He never won a case.

HE STARTED in pictures as a script clerk, directed a number of the Charlie Chase and Laurel and Hardy comedies. They gave him a love for pantomime that has never left him, and he still likes to write with his camera as much as his typewriter.

"Everything I do is partly visual," he remarked. "I love pantomime. I revel in it. Words are necessary, but the movies are still a very visual art. I like wherever possible to let action tell the story."

Whether he takes a writing credit or not, Leo almost always takes a firm hand in shaping the final script.

"Nobody should tell a story who is not a story teller," he said. "The writer is the story teller, and the future of movies is to have more directors who are also writers.

"I FIND IT EASIER to direct characters I have created rather than those created by someone else. You know them better as people."

A stout defender of Hollywood, McCarey says its biggest need now—and always has been—fresh ideas.

"The truth is," he added, "that every time you have a novel idea, it is hard to find people willing to put their money into it — because it doesn't remind them of something else that has been successful."

News of Other Years

40 YEARS AGO — The total demand of France on Germany was 4,000,000,000 francs, excluding the loss of commerce and imports and the damage incurred by individuals, it was announced.

The Bolsheviki regime in Russia was expected to make an attempt to recruit a big army in order to invade other parts of Europe to spread the principals of Bolshevism. The Bolsheviks then had an army of about 180,000 scattered over the former Russian empire.

W. H. Stoutt of the children's welfare committee of the State Board of Charities said that of the 25,000 dependent children in Ohio, more were in state institutions because their parents shirked the responsibility than because they were orphans.

20 YEARS AGO — Prime Minister Chamberlain gave the House of Commons a categorical denial of published reports that he planned to cede British Somaliland to Italy. Americans who had accepted medals from dictators were criticized by Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes. "How can any American who calls himself a Christian or who pretends to believe in the enlightened principles that constitute the warp and woof of our American life, accept a decoration at the hands of a brutal dictator who with that same hand is robbing and torturing thousands of fellow human beings?" he asked.

10 YEARS AGO — The Supreme Court refused to interfere with the international military tribunal which condemned former Premier Tojo and six other Japanese war lords to death. The court, by a vote of 6 to 1, decided it had no authority over the 11-nation tribunal. With this decision, the Supreme Court turned down requests by convicted Japanese wartime officials that it consider their appeals, declare the international tribunal illegal, or order their immediate release.

Local Reservists Affected

Navy Closing Air Base At Columbus Next Year

Many Marion County Naval and Marine air reservists will be affected by the closing of the Port Columbus Naval Air Station, which was ordered Thursday.

The station, in operation 12 years, was ordered closed by June 30 by the Navy department in Washington.

Closing of the facility, which has been the weekend training center for approximately 1,200 airmen, most of them central Ohioans, was attributed by the Navy to a reduction in its operating budget and a desire to reduce its shore establishments.

THE PORT Columbus Naval facility, an estimated $5 million establishment, is one of 30 ground bases in 17 states destined to be closed, Naval spokesmen said.

Besides the large contingent of reservists reporting weekly for training, the station has been "home" to 426 regular enlisted men and 44 officers plus 62 enlisted men and five officers in the Marine Corps.

Plans to shut down the big air station were handed to U.S. Sen. John W. Bricker Thursday by Vice Adm. R. B. Pirie, deputy chief of naval operations for air.

What the future status of the 1,200 reservists will be is problematical at the moment, Adm. Pirie's note to Sen. Bricker said, in part, that "organized reservists affected by this disestablishment will be given every available opportunity to continue their participation in the Naval Reserve."

—:—

THE NAVY currently has 13 reserve squadrons and four ground units operating at Port Columbus, plus an air wing reserve staff. The Marine Corps maintains two fighter squadrons, a helicopter unit and a ground control approach squadron of 315 enlisted men and 110 officers.

All told, about 23 different types of aircraft have been in use at the Naval facility.

The Navy has been leasing the airport for an annual expense of $29,000. The command was establishsed here at the end of World War II, and reserve squadrons subsequently trained there saw active duty in the Korean War.

Arthur McCausland, Former Resident, Dies

Arthur V. (Mack) McCausland, formerly of N. Grand Ave. in Marion, died Dec. 9 in his home at Mount Vernon. He suffered heart attack. An employe of the Huber Mfg. Co. for 20 years, he left here 12 years ago.

Miss Shelba Hoffman, Native of Marion, Dies

Word has been received by friends here of the death in Dayton this morning of Miss Shelba Jean Hoffman, 22, after a brief illness.

Her mother, Mrs. Howard Hoffman, is the former Miss Thelma Harden, Marion music teacher. She was the only child of the Hoffmans and was born in Marion.

Funeral services and burnial will be Monday in Dayton.

Van Atta Party Held

A total of 22 employes and guests of the Van Atta Supply Co. participated in the firm's annual Christmas party Thursday night in Hotel Harding.

Robert Minard, president and general manager of the company, served as master of ceremonies and introduced Prof. Edward A. Wright of Denison University, who entertained with humorous impersonations. Decorations were on a Christmas theme.

New Frigid Wave Predicted in Area

Another cold wave is galloping headlong towards Marion County, with its eastimated time of arrival sometime tenight.

That was the ominous word this morning from the weatherman, who observed that today's noon temperature of 39 was merely "the calm before the storm."

The mercury is expected to start its plunge late this afternoon, leveling off at a frosty eight above zero.

It is not expected to climb above the 20-degree mark Saturday.

It warmed up to an unseasonal 34 Thursday. The overnight low was a comfortable 21, with a heavy overcast prevailing at dawn today.

At noon today the clouds still held forth and the thaw continued. But the spring-like conditions were slated, if the weatherman didn't miss his guess, for a grinding halt tonight, with winter once more coming to the fore.

Democrats Report $253 In Campaign Expenses

Marion County's Democratic organization spent $253 of the $415 it received during the November election campaign, according to a statement filed today with the Marion County Board of Elections.

The Democratic executive and central committees were the last of candidates and organizations required to file expense statements before today's 4 p.m. deadline, the board said.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann: I read the recent hassle in your column about tipping and I would like to say I think the whole system of tipping smells to the high heavens.

You must pay at least 75 cents for an ounce of whisky. The swankier places charge $1. There are 26 drinks in a quart. This means anywhere from $10 to $14 profit per quart. Still the bartender expects a tip.

You carry your baggage a block from the parking lot to the hotel. Then you pay $15 a day for a decent room. A bellhop takes your bag to the room, turns on the light, raises the window and expects 50 cents at least.

I say there's enough profit in that room at $15 a day to pay the bellhop a good salary. He shouldn't need a tip.

If anyone does an extra service for me (like running an errand or getting a suit pressed) he has something extra coming. But to soak the public for service they already paid for is unfair.

Restaurant tipping is the worst of all. Why should a girl be paid extra for putting a meal on the table? Patrons aren't expected to go into the kitchen to get their food.

I'd prefer to pay $3 for a meal, instead of $2.50 and have the restaurant pay the waitress a respectable salary. It would make everyone a wholde lot happier.—LIVE AND LET LIVE.

More About Tipping

Dear Ann Landers: Thank you for saying a good word in behalf of people who must live on tips. The public doesn't realize how much their gratuities mean to a working man who must feed, clothe and educate a growing family.

My husband is a doorman at a fashionable eating place.

I can't tell you what his salary is because if his boss reads this in the paper and hooks him up in any way with my letter he'll get into trouble. Take my word for it, his base pay is so low it's almost an insult.

People who eat in this restaurant must have plenty of money because the prices are very high.

An extra 50 cents or $1 doesn't mean one thing to them. On a rainy night it's well worth it to be able to jump out of car, under a canopy and not have to worry about parking troubles.

My husband has come home many a night, drenched to the skin. When I ask, "How did you do, honey?" He puts the money on the kitchen table. Many a night it is less than $6.

I think the places who hire these people should pay them a decent wage so they wouldn't have to depend on tips. But until this happens, there is no other way but to rely on the generosity of people who understand the problem—Thank you for helping, Ann.—A DOORMAN'S WIFE.

Dear "Live and Let Live" and "Doorman's Wife": Interesting that you view the problem from opposite sides, yet you both agree that 'the system" is to blame and the solution is decent salaries. I agree wholeheartedly.

Thanks to you (and others who wrote about this subject).

Try Flea Powder

Dear Ann Landers: I'm new in this town, 25 years of age, have a good job, drive a nice car, considered good looking and would like a little help from you.

I don't know any women and it occurred to me that you must get lots of letters from gals who are lonesome and in need of male companionship.

I'm not looking to get serious, you understand, I just want to get acquainted with some chicks who like the same things I like Namely, dancing, bowling, rollerskating, conversation and, naturally, romance.

Don't tell me to join a church group. I've seen those creeps and every one of them has a crooked hem or a man's haircut. Help—and hurry.—ITCHY.

Dear Itchy: Maybe it's flea powder you need—not girls.

I never put readers in touch with one another through this column. Besides, how can I tell from a letter if the girl has a crooked hem or a man's haircut? Find your own, Bub.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Marion Star enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Galion Golden Age Chorus Will Sing At Crawford Home

GALION—A spirited group of Galion singers, ranging in age from 65 to 90, will take to the road Sunday, hoping to gain new laurels for Galion. They are members of the chorus of the Golden Age Club, and their trip will be to the Crawford County Home for the Aged near Bucyrus where they will sing four numbers on a Christmas program.

"We thought we would be giving them a thrill when we organized the chorus two years ago, and now they are thrilling us," the directors, Mrs. William MacAdam and Mrs. Murral Longstreth, said.

"Last week when it was near-zero weather, we had 20 choristers out for rehearsal," reported Mrs. MacAdam.

Many of the members of the chorus were soloists and choir members in former years.

Since the chorus was organized two years ago, the group made two appearances at the Peace Lutheran Church, one for the Sunday School and the other for a meeting of the Lutheran Daughters. When the tri-city meeting of Golden Age clubs were held at Mansfield and Galion, the chorus sang.

The Galion Trouble Clinic which sponsors the Golden Age Club is furnishing transportation to take the chorus to the County Home.

The program at the home will last from 2 to 3 p.m. In addition to the choral selections, Mrs. Longstreth and Mrs. MacAdam will sing a duet, and Mrs. H. T. Weirick, a Golden Ager, will give a reading.

Journey of the Magi to Jesus

3 Wise Men Arrive at the End of Long Journey

Editor's Note: After more than a year of travel, hardships in the desert, disappointment in Jerusalem, the Three Wise Men of the East finally approached a simple abode in Bethlehem.

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

The house stood against a hillside. It was small, made of sun-hardened mud bricks. It had no windows. A narrow path led to the doorwway, hung with a heavy wool cloth. Beside it leaned a woodman's axe.

As the wayfarers approached the only sound was the crunching of camel hooves on the red gravel. It seemed quite loud. Melchior's lined face tensed. Neither he nor his two companions spoke. They stared ahead fixedly.

This was the place. This was their goal. This was the star-touched habitation.

Last of a Series

In front of the house, smoke curled from an earthen oven. A waterjar sat nearby, and a millstone. Off to one side of the house was a vegetable patch, and on the other, a little shed built against a Cypress tree.

Wood shavings littered the ground beneath the open shelter, and on a work table lay knives, wedges, bow-drill, adze, mallet and other carpenter's tools, along with some partly carved yokes and axles.

TRAVEL-SPENT old Melchior held himself erect, his senses on edge. So here the long odyssey ended—in Bethlehem.

He and the other Magi, who had dedicated their minds, passions and physical endurance to the dream of welcoming God's Premier to mankind, stopped at last—outside a peasant's hut.

Its occupants were not in sight.

The three stately callers slid to the ground. Servants, who had quit their burros, took the reins of the camels, tapped their necks and pulled down on the halters, signalling them to kneel.

Hastily, the magians straightened their mantles. Melchior smoothed his long, white beard.

Then he stepped to the doorpost. He caught his breath, and knocked.

What answer lay within? What was its compelling power, its strange appeal?

It seemed odd, indeed, that the great eastern scholars should be there. They had wealth, prestige, acclaim. Yet there they stood, with pent-up solicitude, at the doorstep of an obscure Jewish family.

What had engrossed them through the years, and driven them, and brought them across half a continent from Persia to this unlikely pass?

The reason was plain to them, although few shared their values then, or ever.

They saw, above all man's ambitions, attainments and empires, the overarching, infinite logic of God. They believed He spoke a constant word, in every evolving atom of the universe, to man.

AND NOW, in this time and place, they sensed His most eloquent affirmation.

He had sent His Envoy. Truth had become flesh. The divine vocabulary was rendered in man's terms. God had bent down to man, and His voice rang out on earth.

The King had come!

That was why the wise ones were there. That is why they had sat their saddles for months, why they had traversed rugged miles, why they had questioned and persevered, why they stood now at the abode of Joseph, the carpenter.

As they waited, though only for a moment, they could hear as if far off the camels dropping to their knees, then settling in a series of lurches to their bellys with legs folded tightly beneath them.

What would the Child be like? An old Persian maxim said "His body resembles light, as His Spirit resembles truth." But the Magi had no preconceptions; they had come, not pronouncing, but inquiring.

The door covering was drawn aside, and the mild, steady gaze of Joseph met theirs. "What seek ye?"

"We seek One in whom God has visited in the person of a child."

Joseph surveyed the strangers fully, then bade them enter. "He is here."

—:—

THE MAGIANS filed through the doorway, Melchior hobbling in advance, followed by the grave, dark-skinned Balthasar, and then by Gaspar, young and beardless.

The floor was beaten clay, with a sheepskin mat in the center, and some low benches and utensils against the wall. In a corner, a shirt-clad infant played in a wooden crib.

The quiet, young mother, Mary, picked Him up, smiled faintly and sat down on a bench, displaying Him on her knee. He was a year and some months of age. He looked up with wide-eyed interest at the visitors.

Melchior's lips parted wordlessly. Tears welled in his eyes. Then he and the others knelt on the dirt floor in reverence and worship. They had found their King. They had entered the presence of God's Son.

There, in the ordinary beauty and innocence of a healthy toddler, Providence had provided its ultimate message to man. How often the greatest truth is clothed in simplest array.

To recognize it required humility, the knowledge that knows its lack of knowledge. And this was the character of the Magi.

While exalted scientists sought a world in space, they sought a world in time. They aspired, not to mere appearances, but to meanings. Through faith, they saw intuitively what others never see. Many see the stars. But who could see what the Magi saw? They saw the star of Bethlehem.

The Child had been given the name "Yeshua," or as the Greeks say, "Jesus," which means "the salvation of Jehovah."

PRESENTLY, with joyous animation, the Magi hurried outside the house and from their parcels, brought forth gifts and laid them before Him.

Melchior presented gold, red gold, symbolizing a king's power. Gaspar brought myrrh, the resin of burial and death, offering it with tears. Balthasar gave incense, the rich gum of frankincense, signifying Divine immortality.

Mary sat with bowed head, murmuring over each gift. "Thanks be to God."

Tradition says the royal Magi had brought huge coffers of pearls, silk hangings and other luxuries as intended presents, but so as not to offend the dignity of the poor, gave only what they first touched as they reached in their chests.

After their departure, their misgivings about King Herod were intensified by ominous dreams. So they spurned his request to return to him and identify the Child.

Instead of taking the usual route home, northward through Jerusalem to Damascus, they went another way. Some accounts suggest they circled south toward Petra, crossing the copper-colored mountains of Moab.

Other reports say they slipped northward along the coast, departing by ship from the port of Tarsus in Cilicia, where Herod's troops, in vengeful pursuit, later wrecked the whole harbor.

Meanwhile, Herod also wielded his wordly power and cunning to overcome a child. He sent legionaries to slay all Bethlehem children under 2, "according to the time" of the star learned earlier from the wise men.

But the outcome of that clash shakes history. The seemingly helpless Child won. Joseph and Mary fled with Him to Egypt.

THE MAGI also escaped back toward the rising sun, back to the elevated plateau of Persia, to the vineyards of Shiraz, back to the land of hornless cattle and poetry.

Tradition says the Magi later built a chapel on Mt. Vaus, where they had first seen the star, and that they met there each year thereafter. They are said to have become bishops, ordained by the Apostle Thomas.

It is recounted that their bodies, after they died, were removed from Persia to Constantinople, then to Milan, and in 1163, to Cologne, where they rest now at the Cathedral of Cologne.

The Middle Ages claim that the Magi were kings, and they were, in a sense. They were sovereigns in the realm of wisdom, a royal heritage, beholded to its divine Author.

They were far away when Jesus was born, when Christ came to renew life. But God gave the sign. And as is always the case, they could stay, or journey. To average minds, their decision was folly. They acted with utter abandon. But despite the risks, the imponderables and the distance, those who sought, found.

ADORATION OF THE MAGI. This ancient woodcut, taken from a book published nearly five centuries ago, shows how the "Kings of the Orient" appeared to medieval imaginations. Modern research shows the visitors from the East were professional scholars, and "kings" only in a poetic sense. The picture is from John of Hieldesheim's story of the Three Kings, published in 1484 and now at the Pierpont Morgan Library.

Hardin Central Merger Plans Are Ruled Out

KENTON — The Hardin County Board of Education Thursday night unanimously turned down the petitions from the Hardin Central District to be released from the county school system in order to merge with the Kenton City Schools.

The county board members claimed their action of last month in proposing the formatjon of a new school district comprised of Hardin Central, McGuffey, Mount Victory and Ridgeway districts would be nullified if they permitted the district to merge with Kenton.

The board plans to place the question of the formation of the new district on next November's ballot.

The petitions asking the release of Hardin Central from the county school system were signed by 93 per cent of the eligible voters in the district. Spokesmen for the district said petitions signed by 75 per cent of the voters are needed to effect a merger without having the issue put on the ballot.

A spoksman for the Hardin Central School said "other steps" will be taken to bring about the desired merger of Kenton and Hardin Central.

The Hardin Central district surrounds the Kenton city school area. The school of the district is located on Rt. 67 just east of the city. It houses elementary grades only. High school pupils attend Kenton High School on a tuition basis.

GOP in Crawford Spent $400 More Than Democrats

BUCYRUS—The Crawford County Republican Executive Committee spent $2,996 in the November election while the county Democratic Executive Committee was spending $2,584, according to expense accounts filed here with the county board of elections.

The Republican Executive Committee reported receiving contributions of $3,000 while the Democratic Executive Committee received $3,041.

Largest individual expense account was filed by Bert Wilson, Galion Republican and unsuccessful candidate for the full term as county commissioner. He spent $427. His successful opponent, Roy Eichhorn, Whetstone Township Democrat, spent $194.

The county right-to-work committee with John D. Forbes of Bucyrus as chairman reported expenses of $299 while the CIO Anti-right to work committee, headed by Ed DeVol, Bucyrus, spent $140. The Bucyrus School Levy Committee spent $130 in its successful campaign.

Other expenditures of candidates include: Terry E. Drake, Galion, Republican, re-elected state representative, $330; Robert Rickseckeer, Galion, Democratic candidate for state representative, $276; County Auditor Robert H. Findley, Galion Democrat (unopposed) $139; Carl Baker, Tiro Democrat, elected county commissioner (short term) $360; Earl Leonard, Bucyrus, his Republican opponent, $386; Rolland Laughbaum, Galion Democrat, re-elected treasurer, $186; Mrs. Lucille Eppley, Bucyrus Republican candidate for treasurer, $200; County Judges F. H. Baerkircher, Bucyrus, $44, and Nelson Garner, Galion, $30. Both were unopposed.

Council Expecting 620 Traffic Deaths

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Safety Council today estimated that 620 Americans will be killed in traffic accidents during the four-day Christmas holiday period.

The period will begin at 6 p.m. (local time) Wednesday, Dec. 24, and will end at midnight Sunday, Dec. 27.

"Those deaths need not occur and should not occur," the council said.

And it provided this prescription for driving and staying alive:

Start early, cut speed to meet traffic and weather conditions, pull off the road if you feel tired or sleepy.

If you've been drinking, the council added, don't drive.

Traffic deaths during last year's Christmas holiday period of one day totaled 225.

The record death toll for a four-day Christmas holiday period was 706 in 1956.

High Command in GOP Splits on Labor Politics

By VICTOR RIESEL

In a series of unpublicized, private conversations with his avowedly conservative advisers, President Eisenhower has been discussing possible laws which could throw the brakes on labor's streamlined political machine.

VICTOR RIESEL

Whatever the President decides will show up sharply in the special labor message he will send to Congress late in January or early February.

From out of these conferences comes word that he is disturbed by the pile-driving success of labor's political forces and generalship.

The President knows adroit tacticians when he sees them. And their smash through in states with 100 years of traditional Republican victories has startled him.

But he has not decided whether he will push for laws which would turn a government key on labor's treasuries and also prevent the unions from using their headquarters, manpower, phones and business agents in the 1960 election.

AMONG THOSE with whom the President has talked in off-the-record sessions is Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield — certainly one of the Republican party's most influential strategists.

The postmaster, traditionally the tactical general of the party in power, wants the President's stamp of approval on a series of laws which would take labor out of politics — and out of a lot of other activities too.

In one of their most recent talks, it was learned, the postmaster indicated that he would become a political lightning rod and draw labor's fire with public proposals that some tough laws be passed. The President's reply is unavailable. But the postmaster general made such a speech.

This he unleashed recently before 3,000 delighted delegates to the National Assn. of Manufacturers' annual industrial congress. The NAM now is helping distribute "hundreds of thousands" of copies of the talk. And this is a speech with a built-in sledge hammer, for Mr. Summerfield says in part:

"I feel . . . deeply about the political onrush of the organized part of American labor; gathered up in phalanx, its millions of dollars and thousands of trained political manipulators drawn up in battle formation to seize control over our governmental processes. . . .

"I THINK it is high time that the American people demand that the political activity of organized labor be brought within reasonable bounds and clearly governed by law — just as the political activity of all other individuals and groups in this nation are governed by law.

"I think it is absolutely un-American for labor bosses to be permitted to spend union dues in political efforts that are often in direct opposition to what the dues-paying union member himself wants. This must be corrected by law."

There is every reason to believe that President Eisenhower was aware of the contents of Mr. Summerfield's speech before it was made. There has been no repudiation of it.

It was this speech which moved AFL-CIO President George Meany to attack Mr. Summerfield and threaten to launch a third party.

There is more to the deluging of America's executive suites with copies of the Summerfield speech than is apparent.

THE POSTMASTER and his supporters want to prove to the President that their attitude is reflected by business people and some of the public, too, if possible.

They hope, in turn, that the White House will be swamped with demands for union curbing laws.

For standing against Summerfield during Cabinet discussions is a one-man phalanx — Secretary of Labor James Mitchell.

Mr. Mitchell has not yet seen the President alone. But he has been making himself heard in conferences with Vice President Richard Nixon, who in this battle is bucking the conservative bloc.

So, if you've got an odd dollar, you can place it safely on the Mitchell-Nixon group in the Cabinet. They're backing the same proposals the President set up last year to crush the rackets and to safeguard union democracy — no easier, no tougher proposals.

Here, too, you've a preview of the in-fighting at the 1960 GOP nominating convention.

Ex-Russian Premier 'Confesses' to Conspiracy Against Party

Part in Plot Is Admitted By Bulganin

Four Other Former Leaders Involved, He Reports to Committee

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY
AP Foreign News Analyst

Sick, tired old Nikolai Bulganin groveled before Nikita Khrushchev Thursday and begged to be allowed to live out his days in peace.

Bulganin admitted to the Communist Party Central Committee that he had conspired against the party. The 63-year - old former Soviet Premier said Premier Nikita Khrushchev was right in accusing him and four other ousted leaders of reactionary activities.

Weapon Against Foes

Khrushchev apparently staged the humiliation of his old traveling companion as a weapon against continued conservative opposition to his radical adaptations of Communist doctrine to Soviet economic conditions.

By making the proceedings of the committee meeting public immediately, Khrushchev took his case directly to the people, whom he is wooing with promises that industrial and agricultural innovations will mean better living.

Bulganin's confession and Khrushchev's own attacks on the five-man "antiparty group" are designed to discredit all who oppose Khrushchev.

Familiar Stalin Device

Contrite speeches were one of the devices used by Stalin to discredit his opponents. They were a prelude to execution then. None of the antiparty five is known to have met a fate worse than banishment to a small-fry job in the provinces.

Former Premier Georgi Malenkov was last reported running a power station, former Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov was serving as ambassador to Outer Mongolia, former Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov was teaching school and onetime economic boss Lazar Kaganovich was running a factory.

Bulganin came out of semiretirement in southern Russia to speak again in the committee where once his was a prominent voice. As premier from 1955 until last March, while party boss Khrushchev actually ran the country, Bulganin's stout, goateed figure became world famous.

Widely Traveled

He traveled to India, Britain and other countries with Khrushchev. He posed for pictures with President Eisenhower in Geneva in 1955 and signed numerous letters to the White House.

But, Bulganin said Thursday, "when in 1957 the antiparty activities of (the other four) actively developed, I joined them." As premier, he added, "I not only became their accomplice but also nominally their leader."

Snow Removal Is Costly Job for City

READY AND WAITING for the next onslaught of winter is a 40-ton stockpile of salt at the city garage on W. Center St. Costing $15.40 a ton, the compound is one of the large expense items in the city's snow and ice removal program for city streets. Shown here checking the stockpile is William Evans, a street department employe, one of two operators of the street maintainer used to load the salt onto city trucks.

With the official start of winter still more than two days away, the city already has spent a total of $3,866 on snow and ice removal including $925 for 60 tons of salt.

Safety - Service Director Howard W. Travis reported today that since Nov. 28, city crews have also used 36 tons of cinders, provided cost-free from the Ohio Edison Co.'s Scioto power station, and have another 40 tons on hand for future use.

Mr. Travis also reported that wear and tear on city trucks and road scrapers cost $1,290, including gasoline and oil. He said that 1 to 5 trucks have been pressed into use for snow removal, depending on the amount of snow, and that one or two graders have been used.

Total manpower used so far has been 757 man-hours including up to 14 shovelers and from 1 to 7 equipment operators.

City street superintendent Charles Honaker and other key street department personnel have worked as much as 18 hours without stopping during the heaviest snowfalls since Nov. 28, Mr. Travis said. The street crews, split into day and night shifts since early this month, have piled up a total of 200 hours of overtime in fighting winter's onslaughts, he said. Total labor cost in the snow removal program has been $1,651, he said.

trailer, keeping house for himself. He is mentally retarded, speaks with difficulty and is lame.

His few relatives ignore the old gentleman and he feels he is a misfit in society.

A warm visit and a brightly wrapped gift would go a long way in making Dec. 25 a red - letter day on his calendar.

Clearinghouse officials report that as the eve of the holiday draws nearer, more cases are being filed by the participating social and welfare agencies.

The count stood at 200 this morning, with even more anticipated. According to Mrs. Howard Williams, chairman of the Junior Service Guild sponsored clearinghouse, the needs of these indigent families range from clothing and bedding to toys for children.

Both new and used clothing and toys are welcome, but must be usable, Mrs. Williams said.

Special requests are being made for cash donations so that needy families may buy their own food for the holiday.

Mrs. Williams pointed out that the procedure for giving a Christmas requires first a contact with the clearinghouse. Once the donor has selected the case he wishes to help, he may either give money or buy the items and distribute them personally to the family.

Donors are being requested to deliver items themselves because of the shortage of help at the clearinghouse, Mrs. Williams said.

How To Make a Gift

To give a Christmas, telephone 3-2313 or visit clearinghouse headquarters at the Salvation Army Citadel, corner of Windsor and W. Church streets, for names of indigent persons or families. Cash contributions particularly are needed. Make checks payable to Give-a-Christmas and send to clearinghouse headquarters.

Robert Smith To Head Interclub Council Here

Marion Interclub Council held its regular monthly meeting Wednesday noon at the YMCA to elect officers. Robert Smith, 20-30 Club representative, was elected president. Vice president is Wendell L. Strong, Junior Chamber of Commerce representative. Miss Ruth O'Connor, business and Professional Women's Club representative, is secretary.

Replacement of the service club sign located east of Marion was discussed. The property where it is now located has been sold.

Nuclear Talks Adjourn

GENEVA (AP) — The three-nation talks on a nuclear test ban adjourned today for a two-week Christmas recess.

At the last meeting before the recess, U.S. delegate James J. Wadsworth submitted technical program for the staffing and equipment of a worldwide chain of observer posts. It will be discussed after the conference resumes on Jan. 5.

Two Are Certified By Health Group

Certification of two employes of the Marion Department of health as public health sanitarians was announced at the regular meeting of the City Board of Health in City Hall Thursday afternoon.

The board commended Joseph Purcell, city sanitarian, and Alfred Lamb, assistant inspector, for their achievement.

Dr. M. M. Weinbaum, city health commissioner, made the announcement of the certification by the Ohio Association of Public Health Sanitarians.

In order to be certified, Mr. Purcell and Mr. Lamb were required to undergo a written examination at Bowling Green Oct. 22 and an oral examination at Columbus Dec. 1.

The secretary of the association officially notified the two men in letters dated Dec. 14 that they had passed both examinations and had been certified, he said.

Traffic Cases

Two traffic cases were disposed of in Marion Municipal Court Thursday. They were: Louise B. Schwab, 46, of 1200 E. Church St., $15 and costs, speeding; Robert F. Morris, 18, of Worthington, $15 and costs, crossing over a yellow line.

Two Fined for Failure To Pay Traffic Tickets

A Marion Township man and his wife were fined a total of $24 and costs in Marion Municipal Court today when they pleaded guilty to a charge of failing to pay traffic tickets issued them by city police.

Jerry Bault of 10 Sara Ave. was fined $6 and costs on three tickets and Bonnie Bault was fined $18 and costs on nine tickets.

Police Inspector Clyde Hardin said that city police will continue to issue warrants for the arrest of all persons who fail to heed final notices mailed to them by police ordering the payment of past due traffic tickets.

He said a large stack of such tickets, some dating back to 1956, are on file in the police department.

Until the suits were settled, the Marion City board has held off accepting the areas transferred to it. Mr. Mills, therefore, will ask Mr. Knepper, legal counsel for the board, to determine whether or not the end of the litigation nolles the transfer petitions or whether they are in effect as acted on in 1953.

Affected by the petitions are an area along U.S. Rt. 30-S west of Marion, The Woods section east of the city, and territory southwest of the city in the vicinity of Sawyer's Sanatorium.

The board also gave Harry Alexander, assistant superintendent, authority to act on its behalf in the sale of county office furniture, including two desks, a typewriter table and several chairs. The office is soon to have new furniture.

The board set Jan. 17 at 2 p.m. as the date and time for its 1959 organizational meeting.

Present at the meeting, besides Mr. Mills, Mr. Williams and Mr. Roberts, were Edwin Carey, board vice president, John H. Mills and H. Clay Smith.

An employe of the Alloy Cast Steel Co. for the last 23 years, Mr. Makeever is chairman of the Marion County Council of COPE and is a trustee of the Central Labor Union and local 1947, United Steel Workers.

The mayor reported also that the finance committee of the board of governors asked if it is necessary to continue to maintain beds in the 2nd and 4th floor lobbies of the hospital. He said that the medical staff unanimously replied the emergency beds should be maintained. Mayor Strong said he, personally, feels the beds in the lobbies are not needed.

Students Visit Station

A tour of the Port Columbus air control tower was made Thursday night by seven Marion area student pilots and their instructor from the Cobby Aviation Co.

Theodore Harper of 194 Boone Ave, the instructor, said the group observed all tower facilities at the Columbus airport. The air traffic handling procedures, radar tracking, radio calling and answering procedures and weather reporting and forecasting facilities all were explained in detail, he said.

Others making the tour were: Melvin Schwaderer, Samuel Trafzer, Delbert Rush, William Elsasser of Marion and John Martin, of near Marion, Larry Parrish of Richwood and Robert Johnston of Cardington.

Dinner Guests Told of Atlas' Firing by Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower strode dramatically into the center of a glittering White House diplomatic gathering to announce that the United States had placed a nearly 9,000-pound satellite in orbit.

He gave his dinner guests — top-ranking diplomats from 41 other nations — the first word of the great scientific advance Thursday night.

The news that a mighty Atlas missile was in orbit reached the President at the White House minutes before he was due to go down to the state dinner.

He decided to share his secret with his dinner guests even before his press secretary, James C. Hagerty, made the news known to the rest of the world.

But he saved the dramatic moment until he had shaken hands with each of the 78 guests assembled in the East Ballroom.

The red-coated Marine Corps band, unaware of the President's plan, had struck up a march for the chief executive to lead his guests from the ballroom to the state dining room.

But Eisenhower didn't follow the schedule. Instead, he turned back into the middle of the ballroom.

There, standing beneath three glittering chandeliers and in the dazzle of an 18-foot Christmas tree, he announced that he had something interesting to tell his guests.

Simply, the President reported that the United States had gotten a satellite of almost 9,000 pounds into orbit and it was expected to stay there about 25 days.

The diplomats applauded.

Atlas

the 2,919 pounds of Soviet Sputnik III, fired last May 15.

Sputnik III's rocket, variously estimated to weigh between two and five tons, trailed it until being burned up by air friction Dec. 2.

The Atlas' orbit girdles the earth every 100 minutes at altitudes varying between 118 to 625 miles.

Most Americans can see it, glowing like a star, especially at dusk and in the South. Its estimated life aloft is 20 days.

Radio signals for tracking purposes are coming from the giant artificial moon on two frequencies 107.97 megacycles and 107.94 megacycles.

Moonwatchers at El Paso, Tex., were first to report spotting it visually. They reported at 9:30 p.m. that it glowed at 1½ magnitude, just a bit brighter than the stars in the Milky Way.

The Air Force dubbed its satellite Operation Score, after the first letters of the words signal, communications, orbit, relay experiment. These summed up its purposes except for the basic one.

This was to see if the Atlas would fly as faithfully as it did two weeks ago, when it traveled a prescribed 6,325-mile course over the Atlantic.

Of Thursday night's test, the Pentagon said: "Most successful."

But it did much more, as the Pentagon pointed out in a statement: "The entire vehicle achieved an orbit. As such, it is the largest satellite that has been put into orbit by the United States. More importantly, this marks the first time tha ta high accuracy missile guidance system has been used to steer such a vehicle into its orbital trajectory."

U. S. Has Dependable ICBM

Thus, in a matter of minutes, the United States proved once more that it has a dependable ICBM and also took the wind out of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrshchev's taunts about "lemon-size" U.S. satellites.

There was a novel twist to the launching which sent the Atlas soaring at 17,000 miles an hour. In its nose cone was a unique communications system—and there was speculation that its tape recordings included the voice of Eisenhower.

Newsmen expressed this speculation to Pentagon officials, who would neither confirm nor deny it.

The communications system is part of the 150-pound payload in the rocket's nose cone. It records messages sent to it and, on a command signal later, sends the messages back to earth.

The Atlas weighed 100 tons on the ground. The combined thrust of its three rocket engines at sea level was 359,000 pounds. Once fired, its two booster engines dropped off and what was left, the instrumented carcass and burned-out third engine, went into orbit. Powered flight lasted 4½ minutes.

The spectacular shot drew such comment as this:

Karl Bossart, test director at Convair-Astronautics, which built the Atlas: "Only the beginning. With something else on top of it, the Atlas can reach the Moon or Venus."

'IT'S IN PERFECT ORBIT.' Roy Johnson, director of the Advanced Research Projects Agency, announced at a Cape Canaveral press conference that the Atlas missile was placed in "perfect orbit" at a launching Thursday night. The missile-sattelite, weighing more than four tons, is expected to stay in orbit 20 days. (UPI Telephoto)

Ohioan Directs Firing

Launching Crew Kept In Dark on Shot Plans

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Curt Johnston, the test conductor who directed the launching of the world's biggest satellite, did not know where his missile was going when he pressed the launch button.

"I was very suspicious, but I had a job to do and I didn't ask questions" the 31-year-old native of Newark, Ohio, said.

Because one of the tightest security measures in the missile business was invoked, up until three hours before zero hour only 35 men in the country knew that the United States would try to place an Atlas into orbit.

Given Few Details

Although he had the important job of running the show in the blockhouse during the crucial countdown, Johnston was told only that his ICBM was going to be fired at intercontinental range.

Instead, the mighty Atlas blazed high into space at speeds of 17,000 m.p.h. and plopped into an orbit ranging from 625 miles to 115 miles above the earth.

Johnston pressed a large black button that started the Atlas on its space journey, but he didn't realize the extent of his job unil hours afterwards.

Later, he pointed to his head and said "I was suspicious up here." Then he pointed to his mouth and added "but I didn't say anything here."

Steel Nerves Needed

His job, basically, was to insure that the shoot ran as smoothly as possible. To do this a test conductor needs steel nerves and an ability to maintain strict discipline.

Johnston's superiors said later it was one of the most perfect missile countdowns the Convair crewmen ever had in 16 launchings.

"There was one brief delay in the countdown, but that was caused when we had to lie to the boys so they wouldn't become suspicious," said Convair operations manager B. G. MacNabbs.

"We knew something was up," Johnston said. "These guys are pretty sharp and they don't ask questions when they are out of order — but you can't hoodwink them."

Johnston, the youngest of the test conductors at Convair, wears a bright red string tie, fancy shirt, cowboy breeches and high-heeled boots in the blockhouse.

Started as Gag

It started several months ago when, as a gag, Johnston went to work decked out in his Western finery.

"We thought we had a problem that day, but things went smoother than ever before," he explained. "Since then the crew has insisted that I wear the outfit on firing days."

"Now, if things begin to get a little tense before a flight, somebody can always crack a joke about my clothes," he says.

When the countdown reached 25 seconds before zero, Johnston pressed a button on his huge control panel. That was the last human act before the Atlas thundered aloft. It started a chain reaction inside the missile.

The rocket blasted into the black Florida sky, but all but one of the men in the blockhouse thought it was going some 6,000 miles across the Atlantic instead of becoming the greatest achievement yet in man's bid to conquer outer space.

Firm Has Yule Party

The fifth annual Christmas party of Universal Motor Parts, Inc., held in Hotel Harding Thursday night, was attended by 12 persons.

Master of ceremonies was Lou J. Teitelbaum, president of the firm. Mr. Teitelbaum reviewed the company's history, noting that 1959 will be its 40th year of business. A gift exchange concluded the evening's activities.

Firing Is Top Effort of U.S. Missile Team

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Launching of the nation's Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile is the most spectacular fireworks display this famous rocket test center has to offer.

The rocket, 224,000 pounds of power coated with stainless steel, stood free of its service tower for more than an hour before the spectacular launching.

It turned crimson as the rays of the setting sun reflected off the missile case. Later it shone in the beams of powerful floodlights.

Then at 6:02 p.m., the countdown announcer shouted "Zero" and a brilliant flash of white flame shot from the tail of the "Big A."

There was a pause, and then the mighty rocket struggled aloft —slowly at first—with its three engines blazing, it began to accelerate atop a tapered tail of white flame.

The cape turned to daylight for miles around as the monster weapon soared. The thunder of its three-engine power package rocked the coastline.

The Atlas is unique as far as big rockets go in that the full power of the engines is built up on the ground.

After about 60 seconds, the Atlas—just a bright fireball now — curved high in the sky and droned toward the east.

Because conditions were perfect, the Atlas was in sight for about seven minutes before it finally faded out like a fiery meteor.

Hunter

horn of plenty with its small end ready to receive the fire of the Atlas engines.

When the missile blasts off, the exhaust flames from the engines pour through the funnel—cooled by some 30,000 gallons of water a minute. Even then the flames sear almost the full length of a football field from the open end of the flame deflector.

Flame, steam and running water pour over the concrete spillway.

Then the missile begins to rise slowly from the pad—gradually gaining speed.

The two booster engines, churning out some 150,000 pounds of thrust each—and the central sustainer engine with another 100,000 pounds of thrust push the missile aloft.

After the big booster engines have burned their fuels, they shuck off like two unneeded wings and the Atlas burns onward with its sustained engine alone.

Rep. Brooks Hays, Unseated In Segregation Fight, Lauded

WASHINGTON (AP) — Even a loser has his moments of triumph.

Such a moment came Thursday night for Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark). Hays, an avowed moderate on the segregation issue, was unseated last month by Dr. Dale Alford, Little Rock segregationist who ran as a late entry write-in candidate.

In tribute to Hays, about 700 friends and well wishers assembled at a dinner and heard him praised by many national figures.

Responding, Hays said the cause of moderation is not hopeless. He called for "an appreciation of what the rule of law means in sustaining our liberties and our property."

Laudatory messages were read from many national figures unable to attend. Included were telegrams from Adlai Stevenson, one of the sponsors of the event; Vice President Richard M. Nixon; Gov. Price Daniel of Texas; and various members of Congress.

Nixon said Hays' "outstanding reputation was enhanced rather than tarnished by defeat."

Among the speakers was evangelist Billy Graham, a member of the Southern Baptist Convention of which Hays is president. Graham said Hays, now completing 16 years in Congress, "has helped lift the word 'politics' out of the mud."

While there were many references to Hays' defeat, there was no mention of Alford, the man who beat him by 1,200 votes.

Alford, however, has no clear path to Hays' seat. A special House committee, by a 3-2 vote, recommended Wednesday that Alford be denied the seat until an investigation is made of charges there were irregularities in the election. The House will decide that matter on Jan. 7.

None of the other Arkansas senators and representatives attended, although Sen. J. W. Fulbright (D) was listed among ticket purchasers and sent a telegram praising Hays as a "fine public servant."

Mt. Gilead Okays Gas Rate Increase

MOUNT GILEAD — An ordinance to increase rates charged by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. in Mount Gilead by 10 per cent over a period of five years was given the final reading and approved when the Mount Gilead Village Council met this week.

The ordinance will be effective at the earliest date allowed by law.

In the only other action bills were allowed and ordered paid.

The Riverecliff Cemetery board of trustees met following the council meeting and passed a resolution establishing a building, maintenance and repair fund and providing for an annual appropriation of real estate rentals for deposit and credit to said fund.

One ton is 2,000 pounds. One long ton is 2,240 pounds.

Receives Contract

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cooper-Bessemer Corp., of Mount Vernon Thursday received a contract from the city of Cincinnati to supply an engine and generator equipment for the Millcreek sewage disposal plant. The equipment, to cost $210,000, will augment the power supply needed to operate the plant.

Santa and the ELF BOY

by LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE

Santa has called the fairy folk together and told them of their peril. He asked them where the Hag could be found. "In witches land," said an elf. But she has gone from there, says a witch —"To the moon."

Chapter 14

THE MAN IN THE MOON

"The Hangdog Hag has gone to the moon!" cried Santa.

All the fairy folk moaned. Well they knew that if the Hag had fled to the moon they could never reach her. The spell she had cast over the professor's wife could not be broken and the professor would release the awful gas that would destroy them all.

A little pigwidgeon burst into tears. The wraiths were bowed with grief. The leprechauns hugged one another in fear and even the ghosts turned whiter.

Then Esteban tugged at Santa's sleeve. "I could go to the moon," he whispered.

"How?" asked Santa.

"In your sleigh," said Esteban. "Your reindeer could take me there."

—:—

SANTA TURNED to Patrick Tweedleknees. "Is it true?" he asked the keeper of the deer. "Could the deer get to the moon?"

Tweedleknees nodded unhappily. He hated to tire the deer with Christmas so near but he knew that Christmas itself depended on the trip to the moon. So he said, "The deer are ready. They can go anywhere."

"Then," said Santa, "I will go."

"Fi! Fi! Fi!" Cried the Man in the Moon.

"No, no," protested Tweedleknees. "You must stay here. There is a mountain of work to be done and if the mission succeeds and there is to be a Christmas we must be ready for it."

"It will succeed!" promised Esteban.

All the fairy folk agreed that Santa could not be spared and that since Esteban had already done so much he should have the honor of going.

—:—

SO ONCE AGAIN the reindeer were put into harness and, with Esteban in the sleigh, took off into the sky.

Faster than the wind they went, straight into the heavens. In a few hours they had left the earth far behind and were flying among the stars.

Sometimes it was very hot. Other times it was colder than Santa Land had ever been.

On and on and on they went until they reached the highest sky. Here they lost all sense of weight and though the deer sped on it was as if they were floating upward with no effort at all. Esteban had to hold tight to the sleigh or he would have floated off by himself.

Now the moon came closer and closer and instead of going upward it seemed to Esteban that they were gently floating down.

BUT WHEN they landed at last the moon was not the beautiful silver ball Esteban had seen from afar. It was gray and barren and desolate with not a sign of life anywhere—not even a blade of grass.

Esteban started at the treeless mountains that towered around him. He was frightened and more lonely than he had ever been in his life.

"How shall I find the Hag?" he wondered.

At that moment he heard a shout and turning he saw an old, old, man hobbling out of the hills.

"Fi! Fi! Fi!" shouted the man, waving a stick.

—:—

ESTEBAN turned pale and his knees shook. He wanted to run away but there was no place for him to run to.

The old man arrived out of breath.

"Fi!" he gasped and smiled. The smile spread across his whole face and suddenly Esteban understood that instead of "Fi" the old man meant to say "Hi!"

"Hi!" cried Esteban smiling, too. "Who are you?"

"I?" said the old, old man raising his eyebrows in surprise. "I am the Man in the Moon."

Harding Entertains Findlay in Conference Game

Both Quintets Seek Initial Loop Victory

Harding High School's cage squad will play at home tonight, and its opponent will be the Findlay Trojans in a Buckeye Conference action.

Marion Catholic will enjoy one more night of practice before going to Ridgedale Saturday night for a non-league game with the Rockets.

TONIGHT'S CONTEST for the Prexies will be the second in conference competition. Coach Don Knodel's boys dropped their first loop fracas Friday night at Sandusky, falling to the Streaks by a 58-51 count, after winning three non-loop games in succession.

The Irish of Coach Ray Robbins will be after win No. 1, having gone down the drain in four outings to date. Bill Phillips' basketballers will sport a 3-1 mark at game's outset.

Harding and Findlay will clash tonight with identical 3-1 records behind them. The Presidents waltzed past Kenton 78-45 in their opener, hobbled Columbus Aquinas 58-42, then hamstrung Shelby 70-50 before being mesmerized by the Sanduskyans.

Bob Werley's Trojan quintet slipped past Berea 68-63, pasted Defiance 39-25 and then rolled handily over Mansfield 50-32 before getting its lumps from Elyria's Pioneers.

Thus both teams take the floor with a "must win" attitude if either expect to remain alive in the chase for the Buckeye loop flag.

Knodel will probably go with the same boys who have been carrying the bulk of the Prexy load to date. Big Bob Middleton will be at center, with Mike Chamberlain and Charles Campbell at the forwards and George Kirk and Stan Larkin at the guards.

AGAINST THIS talented array, Werley will most likely send three Trojans who have gained considerable experience in seasons past. They include Charles Hickle, 6-foot veteran of three campaigns in a Trojan uniform, who rimmed enemy buckets for 322 points last year to take Findlay scoring honors.

The two starting guards from last season — Bill Lee and Hugh Davis — will be going full blast tonight. Lee, a 6-1 high scoring threat, and Davis, 5-11 speed merchant, are both big threats to Trojan opponents. Lee tallied 269 points a season ago, while Davis racked up 153.

The Prexies will take the floor tonight possessing a much better scoring average than Findlay. In four games, Knodel's cagers have rolled in 257 points, an average of something over 64 digits per game. They have allowed 195, or about 49 points per outing for their opponents.

Findlay, with 208 points to its credit for a 52-point average, has allowed 178 or 44 per contest.

Knodel declared, after the Sandusky loss, that a lapse in fundamental perfection contributed to the defeat. "If we cut down on these mistakes, we should be all right from here on," he suggested.

MARION CATHOLIC will be going with any one of about 10 boys who have been shifted about by Robbins in an effort to find a winning combination. However, the Irish will probably take the floor for the opening tipoff with Tom Rish at center, Dennis Blue or Paul Hurney and Dennis Dickerson at the forwards, and Ted Anderson and Steve Myers at the guards.

Against the Robbinsmen, Phillips will probably send George Young at center, Jack Clark and Joe Moore at the forwards and Walt Breitigan and either Fred Moore or Steve Williams at the guards.

The Rockets have been shooting from the field at a 40 per cent completion clip and have been 50 per cent effective at the foul line.

And, the Ridgedale five will carry a much better offensive and defensive mark into the action than the Irish. Phillips' lads have canned 250 points in four games for a 62-points-per-til average. The have allowed 188 or 47 per contest. Marion has hit for 131 points or 33 per game, while allowing 202 or 50 each outing.

Phillips observed earlier this week that he had scouted the Irish in the latter's loss to Mount Gilead and observed that "although they didn't look too good, they are probably better than their play that night indicated."

Robbins has said, time and again, that "when we loosen up under game conditions the way we do in practice, we'll win a game or two."

Last Night's Fights

Los Angeles — Billy Thomas, 130, San Francisco, outpointed Jesse Morales, 131, Los Angeles, 6.

Albuquerque, N. M. — Jimmy Martinez, 151, Glendale, Ariz., outpointed Armando Muniz, 151, Mexico City, 10.

Reese Takes Post As Dodger Coach

LOS ANGELES (AP) — After a brilliant 16-year career, Pee Wee Reese is retiring as a shortstop to become a coach for the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Vice President Buzzie Bavasi said Reese could have continued as an active baseball player on another club but that he preferred to be a coach with the Dodgers rather than change uniforms.

Reese starred in seven World Series and played in eight All Star games after replacing another great Brooklyn shortstop, Leo Durocher, in 1940.

Notre Dame's wrestling team is captained by Paul (Bucky) O'Connor, a senior from West Orange, N.J. He wrestles in the 177-pound class.

Expected Little

Giants' Climb Surprise For Coach Jim Howell

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Lee Howell looks you straight in the eye when he tells you that nobody—but nobody—is more surprised than he over the New York Giants' amazing climb into a first-place Eastern Conference deadlock with the Cleveland Browns.

The tall Giant coach watched his squad perspire through its next-to-last stiff workout for the big playoff game Sunday against the Browns for the right to meet Baltimore in the NFL title game.

"When the season started I didn't think we'd win more than last week's game. four games. And if I had known about all those injuries I'd have said we'd be lucky to win more than two games."

To what did he attribute the Giants' 9-3 record?

"A great defense, a good bench. Spirit, hustle, will to win, increasing confidence with each victory. Harmony and unity," he said.

Howell is getting quite a bang out of stories from Cleveland quoting Browns' coach Paul Brown as called in the Giants' lucky to win dual meet victories under Coach Bob Kiphuth.

UCLA Names New Head Grid Mentor

LOS ANGELES (AP) — UCLA has hired Bill Barnes, long time aide of the late Red Sanders as head football coach.

Wilbur Johns, athletic director, announced Thursday that the 41-year-old Barnes has signed a contract. He said it extends beyond one year but he declined to say exactly how long. The salary is believed to be $15,000 a year.

Barnes replaces George Dickerson, who suffered a nervous collapse last fall shortly after he replaced Sanders. Sanders died of a heart attack just before the football season opened.

Yale opened its 1958-59 swimming campaign with 169 straight victories under Coach Bob Kiphuth.

Won't Forsake Running

Browns Still Rely On Ground Attack

CLEVELAND (AP) — Don't expect the Cleveland Browns to fill the air with passes Sunday on their return to Yankee Stadium—even though Coach Paul E. Brown has indicated his club will pass more than last Sunday.

For one thing, the New York Giants have been tough to pass against. For another, Browns' quarterback Milt Plum lacks experience.

The Giants, who beat the Browns 13-10 in their last encounter to tie things up at the top of the Eastern Conference standings and force a playoff, have allowed opponents to complete only 45.7 per cent of their pass attempts. This is the best record in the National Football League.

Against the Browns, opponents have completed 51.9 per cent.

One observer has called comments by Giants' coach Jim Lee Howell the last few days "a propaganda barrage" sent out with the hope the Browns "will forsake running for passing."

Even though he may call more pass plays, Brown isn't forgetting Jim Brown, the bruising fullback who ran away with NFL running honors.

"The Giants would like nothing better than to have us not use Jim," said Coach Brown.

Bob Gain, defensive end who was injured Dec. 7, worked out at League Park Thursday as the Browns drilled on defense. Gain missed workouts all last week because of his foot injury but played at Yankee Stadium Sunday.

With Gain back, all 34 players on the squad appeared to be ready for the big effort Sunday.

Lack of News Hurting Sports Gate Receipts

NEW YORK (AP) — Growing concern over the 10-day-old deliverers' strike has stopped publication of New York's major newspapers was voiced today by sports promoters and officials in this news-hungry metropolis.

They blamed dwlindling attendances on the shutdown.

Stepped-up sports coverage by radio and television stations apparently has been of little help and each sport, except for the Cleveland-New York professional game, has been hit in varying degrees.

A Madison Square Garden official estimated the loss in college and pro basketball attendance at 25 per cent.

Murray Goodman, publicity director, of the International Boxing Club, which is promoting tonight's Nino Valdes-Pat McMurtry fight in the Garden, pointed out, "It's even going to affect the television audience. Without the daily TV listings some people won't know that there'll be a fight to look at. I'd say we're going to run a couple of thousand dollars behind what we would have under ordinary circumstances."

Vince Costello Has Incentive For Title Win

CLEVELAND (AP) — With his wedding to a Massillon girl coming up two weeks from Saturday, Vince Costello, the Cleveland Browns middle guard, will have special incentive for a victory in New York Sunday.

A triumph over the Giants, followed by one in the title game with Baltimore, would mean a nest egg of $4,000 to $5,000 for the newlyweds.

Costello's fiancee is 20-year-old Sally Dutton, whom he met when she was working in a bank at Massillon last summer. An Ohio State University coed, she was runnerup in the last Miss Ohio Contest.

Costello, in his second year with the Browns, is 26 and an Ohio University graduate.

Naturally, Sally is a football fan, and the Browns have replaced the Buckeyes as her No. 1 team. She comes from a football - minded family.

Her father, Howard Dutton, played quarterback for Massillon High School in 1936. His coach was Paul E. Brown, current boss of her husband-to-be.

Cage Coach Named

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—President Stewart H. Smith confirmed Thursday night that Charley Snyder, a former Marshall College star, will be named to succeed Herb Royer as head football coach at Marshall.

Smith said the Marshall athletic board has recommended Snyder, a University of Kentucky freshman coach, for the position.

Woody Hayes To Speak

Appreciation Event Slated To Honor Gordon Larson

A citywide appreciation dinner for Gordon Larson, head coach of the unbeaten and untied Harding High School football team, will be held here Tuesday, Jan. 13 at 6:30 p.m.

Woody Hayes, Ohio State University football coach, will be guest speaker at the program being sponsored by the Marion Lions Club. The dinner is scheduled for the UAW-CIO Union hall at Leader and Mary Sts.

The dinner, open to the public, also will honor members of the championship football squad, the Harding High School band and the cheerleading squad.

Hayes will be introduced by the dinner by Bob Lister and Jerry Harbin, 1957 graduates of Harding who are candidates for the OSU varsity next year. Harbin was an all-Ohio lineman under Larson at Harding while Lister was rated the No. 2 quarterback in Ohio during his senior year here.

Hayes will be introduced by E. L. Mitchell, Marion attorney, and Robert T. Mason will serve as master of ceremonies. T. I. Martin, a member of the local Lions group, is chairman for the dinner.

Larson climaxed his fourth year at Harding by leading his gridders through an undefeated and untied season, the first in the history of the school. It also was Harding's first Buckeye Conference title.

As a result of their spectacular showing, the Presidents were rated No. 1 in the United Press International high school football poll and No. 2 in the Associared Press ratings.

Larson was a landslide choice for coach of the year honors in both polls.

Bobcats Suffer Second Court Defeat in Row

By The Associated Press

Two Rochester, N.Y., basketball teams did not fare well with Ohio cage teams, but they were the only out-of-staters to be defeated Thursday night.

At Oberlin the Yeomen, sparked by Pete Lund, a 6-foot-8 sophomore who contributed 35 points, defeated the University of Rochester 70-56. Oberlin trailed only in the opening minutes in posting its second victory in four starts. Rochester has been defeated five times.

Baldwin-Wallace completed the sweep by edging Rochester Tech 79-74 on the New Yorkers' floor. It was the Yellow Jackets first win in five games.

Three other Ohio teams were unable to record victories.

Earlham College of Richmond, Ind., was never in trouble and tied only once as it defeated Heidelberg 79-64. The losing Student Princes dropped their fifth game in six starts, but salvaged the night's scoring honors as Gene Wenger dropped in 21 points.

Central State, which has't won a game now in eight straight tries, was a victim of Hope College of Holland, Mich., 83-72.

Ohio University was handed a 72-65 defeat by a strong Nigara (N.Y.) team. It was the Bobcats second loss in a row, both of them on the road. They opened the season with three consecutive victories.

In intrastate battles, Wilmington's Quakers boosted their Mid-Ohio League record to 3-0 by defeating Ashland, 72-55, and Cedarville, with Bill Reese scoring 35 points, downed Malone College of Canton, 89-85. Malone's Dan Murphy of Van Wert tallied 31 points to lead the losers.

Rocky Colavito Captures League's Slugging Crown

CHICAGO (AP) —Rocky Colavito, Cleveland's hard-hitting outfielder, led the American League last season in slugging with a .620 average.

Colavito finished far ahead of New York's Mickey Mantle, Kansas City's Bob Cerv and the 1957 champion Ted Williams of Boston. Mantle and Cerv climaxed the season with identical .592 averages and Williams, who won with a mark of .731 last year, finished fourth with a .584.

Colavito had 303 total bases in 489 times at bat. His 41 homers were second only to Mantle's 42. He hit 26 doubles, 3 triples and drove in 113 runs, a total exceeded only by Jackie Jensen's 122 for Boston.

Mantle drew the most bases on balls, 129. In 1957 he led the league with 147. Of Mickey's 129 passes, 13 were intentional.

The champion Yankees led the league in team slugging with a .416 average. Cleveland was second with .403 followed by Boston with .400.

All told, LaRue hit for 12 goals and eight free throws, compared to 10 from the field and six at the foul line for Max Ross' cagers.

Pacing the Indians' attack was Harter, whose four goals and three gift completions were good for 11 points. Montgomery and Hecker both contributed six, while Wittibslager got five and Snyder four.

Fran Voll and Don Sherer both hit for eight to pace their Irish mates, with Ken Barzachinni getting six.

Valdes Risking Crack at Title In Ring Clash

NEW YORK (AP)—Nino Valdes risks his lofty ranking and Pat McMurtry gets his big chance tonight in a heavyweight bout at Madison Square Garden.

Nino's voluble manager Bobby Gleason already has claimed the title for the 6-3 Cuban giant with the 81-inch reach.

McMurtry's manager his father, is particularly upset because his son didn't make the top 10 in the National Boxing Assn. ratings after he whipped George Chuvalo in the Garden Oct. 17. Ring was more impressed, placing him No. 10 among Floyd Patterson's contenders.

"I'm ready for the champ right now," said McMurtry, who hails from Tacoma, Wash. He is 26 and owns a fancy left.

His career record, dating back to 1954, is 30-2-1.

Big Nino, rated No. 2 by Ring and No. 4 by the NBA, is the man who really is taking a chance. After dropping a questionable decision to Alex Miteff in February, he has won five in a row. He took a decision over Wayne Bethea and Mike DeJohn, stopped Johnny Summerlin and Harold Carter and then whipped DeJohn again Aug. 15. He hasn't fought since but is a 7-5 favorite.

The Cuban was 34 Dec. 5. He has been fighting pro since 1941, compiling a 46-15-2 record.

Bible Words for Today

MATTHEW 13:3-8 — "A sower went out to sow. . . seeds fell on good soil and brought forth grain. . . ." (RSV)

* * *

Much of life is spent in sowing seed. There's probably little else that we do as important. It is hard work and requires sweat, time and intelligence. The sowing season is short, so that we dare not miss an opportunity. Of course, it is an unreasonable act; how can an idea planted in a child's mind ever take root and grow? But it does. It requires strong faith to believe that a planted seed will grow. It looks so unpromising in its hard, brown shell. We must remember that though what we say may not appear too important, yet it can, with God's grace, be made to germinate. Faithful teachers and devoted parents gain great satisfaction in sowing the good seed of our Christian faith. There is nothing to equal its reward. Some times it repays as much as one-hundredfold.

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Who, What, Where, etc.

Charles Chapin, city editor of the old New York Evening World, while awaiting trial for the murder of his wife, used to call in the Evening World reporters and raise cain with them about the way they were covering the story.

JOHN CROSBY

So they say, anyway (the same people who said it couldn't be done, that is), and after this last week in a newspaperless New York, I'm ready to believe it.

When you have spent a week in a town without newspapers, the hunger for news gets fairly ravenous. But it is not for news from Syria that you hunger. It's news about your own little rat race, only occasionally known as the newspaper dodge.

We were horribly dependent on the radio and the television for news of our own affairs, our own newspaper, our chances to get back to work.

ABOUT ALL we heard — every hour on the hour—was that there was a strike.

But what were the issues, fellows? Who said what to whom? How far apart are they? What concessions did the publishers make? What about the truck drivers? Who represents the truck drivers? Who the publishers? What precipitated the strike and what the chances of settlement?

Questions, fellows, questions!

Instead of information we got the rich throaty voice, the pregnant pause, the mellifluous flowing sentences with the perceptible punctuation. But the rich throaty voice didn't say anything. Or almost nothing.

WNEW had the splendid idea of having columnists read their own perishable prose between rock 'n' roll records. Cholly Knickerbocker, otherwise known as Igor Cassini, came on, whinnying gently, and fluted: "Between you and me and the lamppost and 20 million readers, Linda Christian is up to her old tricks."

And he told a perfectly ghastly story about Linda's losing her carrings which would have been otherwise lost to posterity. "This is Cholly Knickerbocker saying goodbye, dear readers and listeners." Bye!

WRCA BROUGHT on a full hour of reporters and columnists of the New York Times, proving that those august bylines actually breathe and talk. This was a newsy session except that even the Times men stepped gingerly around the strike situation as if they feared making it worse.

About the one thing a newspaper strike proves again and again is that newspapers are hard to get along without. You can't wrap a fish in Edward R. Murrow's sepulchral tones. You can't hum Chet Huntley all the way to work on the 8:12.

Husbands have had a good look at their wives for the first time in years over the breakfast table and it's been a sobering experience.

JOHN PATRICK, author of "The Hasty Heart," which was du Pont's Show of the Month Thursday on CBS-TV, only recently has succumbed to television and is on the whole appalled by it.

"What appalls me are the commercials," he says. "They are often in such bad taste.

"I remember once during the war coming back to the United States on a transport. Suddenly the air was full of commercials. One forgot how bad they were, having been away."

I asked Mr. Patrick what he had been watching and what he thought about it all:

"I started out listening to Mr. Paar and at first I rather enjoyed him and then, little by little—how can I put this?—a lack of humanity showed through. Now I go to bed.

"Ben Hecht is interesting and unusual. But destructiveness just for the sake of being an iconoclast? I do think when he calls Hemingway a fraud and then talks baby talk, he's going too far.

"SINCE I'VE been watching TV I've decided I like to see only two people on that screen. I don't like to see 20 dancers. I can't follow them. I do like Ed Murrow's 'Small World.' I've liked all but two of those.

"I'm a better farmer than a playwright. I raise Angus and white Sonen goats. I'm in love with goats. I'm starting a world crusade for people to understand goats again.

"I've made a short film on goats, taking it from the time a goat is born until she gives birth. They are wonderful creatures—kind, loving, sweet - smelling. I adore them. Can I sell you a goat?"

Strawberry Angel Food Cake Is Quick, Tasty

With all the flurry and bustle that accompanies preparations for the coming holidays, homemakers are always searching for a dessert that can be prepared quickly, yet retain a maximum of eye and taste appeal.

Such a dessert is the new strawberry angel food cake, which can be whipped together easily from a mix. When cool, the cake is frosted with Almond Butter Cream Frosing and decorated with toasted almond and chopped candied fruit.

Almond Butter Cream Frosting

Sift 1 pound confectioners' sugar (about 4 cups.) Cream ½ cup butter until soft. Add ⅛ teaspoon salt, and part of sugar, blending well after each addition.

Add two egg yolks and ¼ teaspoon almond extract; blend well.

Add remaining sugar alternately with two tablespoons milk, beating well after each addition, until smooth and of spreading consistency.

Flavor whipped cream with a little almond extract and serve with peaches.

Fight Ice on Lake

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Coast Guard cutter Mesquite was convoying the Buckeye, Columbia Transportation Co. vessel, downbound in Lake St. Clair to Ecorse, Mich. early today.

Thursday night the Mesquite convoyed the Hennepin, A. M. Byers and Dow Chemical from Toledo to Detroit, and the Coast Guard's big ice breaker, Mackinaw, convoyed the Peter Reiss and Perseus from Pelee Passage to the Detroit River. Except for the Buckeye, which is carrying a load of sulphur, all freighters that were trapped by piled ice at the western end of Lake Erie had been freed and convoyed to port early today, the Coast Guard here said.

8 Are Accused Of Filing False Expense Tabs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state auditor said today charges that eight employes of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources, falsified expense accounts "are substantiated in a state examiner's report."

Auditor James A. Rhodes said the investigation disclosed that "phony" expense items submitted by the eight men totaled $1,833.23. The report says they "knowingly submitted false or fraudulent claims to the Department of Natural Resources."

Releases Statement

The statement released by Rhodes said: "The eight Wildlife Division employes presented forged or false receipts for expenses they claimed to have incurred in the performance of their official duties for the department."

Rhodes said the Division of Wildlife recently "found it necessary to file charges with the Civil Service Commission . . . against William R. Farley," a supervisor of the division.

The examination covers seven employes who were assigned to Farley, the report states.

Report Lists Others

The auditor's report said false or fraudulent claims turned in by Farley totaled $571.43. The examiner's report listed the seven others, and the false or fraudulent claims charged against each as follows:

Merryll M. Bailey, $391.84; Paul M. Guerra, $315.34; Jack Brown, $246.13; Warren Handwork, Robert Cummins Jr., $78.24; Robert Feagles, $60.08, and Paul Wynn, $31.75.

Farley had been in charge of Lake Erie division enforcement, with headquarters in Sandusky. He resigned from the job some time ago. Cummins resigned several months ago, after the investigation began. He was a fish biologist.

The others, who worked in the same division, were engaged in law enforcement. They still are on the job.

Hayden Olds, chief of the Wildlife Division, said "in my opinion the men will stay on their jobs unless county prosecutors take action and prove the allegations."

Modern Version of Christmas Treat

Swirl-Shaped Tube Pan Is Used in Making Pound Cake

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

What a fascinating last-minute to-do there used to be in many kitchens around Christmas time!

That was because the day before the holiday a magnificent pound cake had to be baked. Down came the special fancy swirl-shaped copper tube pan from its resting place. (In some families the pan was called a gugelhupf -mold.)

Out came a large number of eggs and a pound of sweet butter from the icebox or cool larder. The flour was scooped out of its bin and sifted. Down came the canister or wide-mouthed jar of special fine sugar, kept for great cakes and perhaps with a vanilla bean resting on its snowy drifts, to be measured out.

Who ever heard of an electric mixer for old-fashioned pound cake? The butter and sugar were "creamed" with strong fingers use to the job. Or several members took turns at creaming, using a wooden paddle or capacious mixing spoon. The most durable large platter held the egg whites, to be beaten to soft peaks with a flat whisk.

But wait a minute. A cook might decide to embellish her cake. Some ladies still followed the 1850 directions of Mrs. Sara Josepha Hale. After all, Mrs. Hale was editor of Godey's Lady's Book and she advised "Half a nutmeg, grated, and a little pounded cinnamon or mace." Then the famous editor went on to explain, "Candied lemon peel cut thin, and blanched and chopped sweet almonds, are sometimes added; and half a pound of currants will make the cake much richer." This was a cake for company. Mrs. Hale did not mince matters; she also gave a Family Pound Cake, and it seems the family deserved only dried currants or (in her spelling) carraway-seeds!

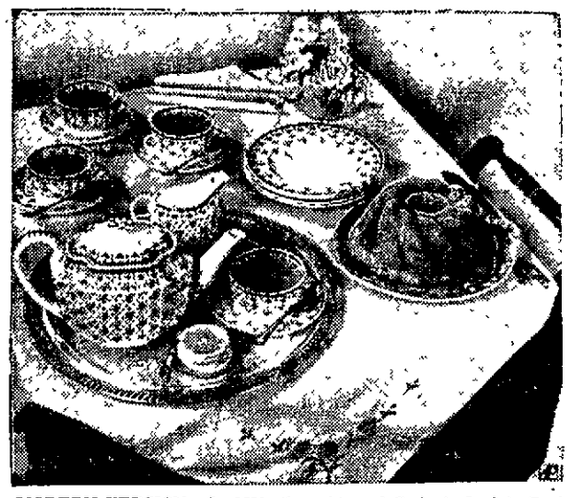
But whatever the flavoring, one thing was sure. That cake would be turned out of its pan onto a cooling rack, a thing of beauty, and its substantial but utterly delectable innards savored to the last crumb. On Christmas day, and after, it might be sliced thin and served at tea-time.

Some old-time cooks, on occasion, used brown sugar in their pound cakes; here's a modern version of that conceit that recently was enjoyed at our house.

BROWN SUGAR POUND CAKE

Ingredients: 2 cups sifted flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, ¼ teaspoon baking soda, ¼ teaspoon salt, ¾ cup butter or margarine, 1¼ cups firmly-packed light brown sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 4 large eggs, 1 cup coarsely broken walnut meats.

Method: Sift together the flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt. Cream butter, sugar and vanilla; add eggs, one at a time, beating thoroughly after each addition. Gently beat in dry ingredients just until smooth; do not overbeat. Fold in walnuts. Turn into well-greased lightly-floured 2-quart swirl-shaped small-tube baking pan; bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 1 hour or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Loosen sides of cake from pan and turn out on wire rack to cool; store in tightly-covered container.



MODERN VERSION. In 1850, the editor of Godey's Lady's Book did not mince matters in setting forth the recipe for a "company" versus a "family" pound cake. But here's one that will amply serve both purposes.

Airliner Plays Shepherd Role For Lost Plane

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A United Airlines DC6 with 42 passengers aboard shepherded a single engine plane lost in a bank of clouds to safety late Thursday at Youngstown Municipal Airport.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Sven Persson of Youngstown were in the single-engine Cessna when they ran into the heavy layer of clouds. Both had flying experience but had no instrument training. They were returning from Aspen, Colo.

Persson, flying at 8,000 feet, radioed the Civil Aeronautics Administration (CAA) officer at the Youngstown airport and told of his problem. The officer, Roger Graves, advised Persson that a United airliner was due in the area shortly.

Then Graves diverted all other traffic, including jet planes from the airbase here, to Columbus. He called Capt. Joseph Matuna, the pilot on United Flight 917 from Philadelphia.

Both Persson and Matuna hooked up on the same radio frequency and the big craft gave out compass readings. The Cessna followed down through the two layers of clouds, landing first.

The United plane set down a few minutes later but 44 minutes behind schedule.

Jurors Study Testimony in Damage Claim

A Common Pleas jury began deliberating at 10 a.m. today on testimony heard since Wednesday in a $50,000 damage suit which stemmed from an October, 1955, traffic accident about six miles north of Waldo.

The verdict apparently will be decided on whether visibility at the time of the accident was too poor to see clearly for 500 yards.

Mrs. Mabel Hoover of near Harpster, plaintiff, charged that the defendant, Paul Force of near Edison, failed to display warning lights on the rear of a northbound combine he was driving. State law requires that warning lights be turned on an hour after sunset or at any time visibility is less than 500 yards.

Attorneys for both sides agreed that the accident occurred on State Rt. 98 within an hour after sunset Oct. 23. The plaintiff's attorneys, however, maintain it was too dark to see clearly for 500 yards.

Defense attorneys Russell Wilhelm of the local law firm of Wilhelm and Robinson, and Delaware attorney Fred Wickham contend it was not dark enough to warrant turning on the red rear warning lights.

Presenting the plaintiff's case were Paul D. Michel of the Donithen, Michel and Davis law firm and Clarence Purdy of the Bucyrus law firm of Kennedy, Kennedy and Purdy. They called six witnesses during the hearing and the defense called nine.

Testifying for the plaintiff were John H. Pace of Columbus, Robert and Floyd Rader of Grove City, Patrolman W. D. Worner of the Marion Highway patrol post, Dr. Carl J. Ide of Bucyrus and Mr. Hoover.

Faces Second Charge in Washington

Goldfine Found Guilty Of Contempt in Boston

BOSTON (AP) — Industrialist Bernard Goldfine was convicted in federal court today of criminal contempt for failure to comply with the court's order to produce records of one of his textile mills in a tax probe.

About the same time Judge Charles E. Wyzanski Jr. was filing his decision in Boston, the 67-year-old Goldfine was pleading innocent in Washington to a contempt of Congress indictment.

Secretary Also Found Guilty

Goldfine's secretary, Miss Mildred Paperman, also was found guilty of criminal contempt in regard to the Strathmore Mills of Boston and the Northfield Mills of Northfield, Vt., two other Goldfine enterprises.

The Goldfine conviction was on books of the Lebanon Mills of Lebanon, N. H.

Goldfine was found innocent on complaints regarding the records of the Lebadale Mills of Lebanon, N. H. and George Mabbett & Sons Co., of Plymouth, Mass.

In Washington Goldfine is accused of flouting Congress by refusing to tell House investigators enough about his financial dealings.

Wrongdoing Denied

In the Washington hearing it was brought out Goldfine had made gifts to former presidential aide Sherman Adams and other public officials. Adams denied there was any wrongdoing in the matter. He subsequently resigned his White House post.

Goldfine stepped forward briskly today when his name was called in District Court in the nation's capital. He pleaded "not guilty" in a firm voice. Judge John J. Sirica set his trial for March 16.

Goldfine had little to say to reporters and was unaware at the time of the court action in Boston.

In the Boston decision, Judge Wyzanski said he will impose sentence Monday.

Gas Consumption Set Record During Recent Cold Spell

One of the longest and most bitter cold spells in recent years put record demands on the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. delivery system from late November to mid-December, C. L. Baxter, division manager for Ohio Fuel, said today.

From Nov. 26 to Dec. 16, the average temperature in Ohio Fuel territory was 16 degrees below normal, Mr. Baxter said.

Ohio Fuel's 720,000 customers in 59 counties used more natural gas during the 21 day-period than in any similar period in the history of the company, he said.

The average Ohio Fuel customer who heats his home with gas used almost half again as much gas during the cold wave as is normally used between those dates, and two and one-half times as much as was used during a comparable period in the preceding month.

Since 1946, Ohio Fuel has invested a quarter of a billion dollars in new pipe lines and other facilities and in enlarging its underground storage to prepare its delivery system for this kind of cold weather.

Registrations Open for New YMCA Family Life Program

Registrations for the new YMCA program entitled "Rediscovery of Family Life" are now open for any parents of teen-age children, officials of the Adult Program Department announced today.

The six weekly seminar sessions, beginning Jan. 15, are designed to solidify home relationships between parents and their teen - age offspring. Professional speakers have been engaged for several meetings, Dean C. Ludwig, adult program director, reported.

During the first session the objectives and purposes of the program will be outlined by Prof. Richard Gay of Ohio Wesleyan University. The educator is director of student religious activities at the university.

Mr. Ludwig pointed out that the object of the program is to encourage the rediscovery of family life through an informal educational process directed at the parents. Sessions will meet at 7:30 p.m. each week, lasting one and one-half hour. They will feature both lectures and discussion.

It is anticipated that the program will help parents to better understand the teen-ager's problems and to adjust, through their own methods of living, to the unique changes which this age group brings to the family scene.

Other speakers which have been engaged for the series are Allan Griffin, professor of education at Ohio State University, and the Rev. Charles Harrison, assistant superintendent of Boys Industrial School at Lancaster.

The seminars will delve into such significant subjects as problems confronting a teen-ager, conflicts between the teen-ager and his parents and socio-economic conflicts.

Admission charge for the entire series will be $3 per person or $5 per couple, Robert Bush, chairman of the adult program committee, reported. He said admission fees will be used to help defray the cost of obtaining the lecturers.

The new program has been in the planning stages for 10 months. It has the endorsement of the Rotary Club, Kiwanis Club and Lions Club.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was irregularly higher in active trading early this afternoon. Some rocket and missile stocks responded to the news that America had launched a 4½-ton satellite.

Generaly Dynamics, builder of the Atlas missile, had a flurry to the upside which melted to a moderate gain. The stock rose 2¾ Thursday. Gains and losses of fractions to a point were the rule for most key stocks.

Aircraft - rocket - missile stocks were mixed. Rubbers, rails and tobaccos were generally higher. Steels, motors and chemicals were irregular.

American Telephone dropped about three points in profit taking on the huge advance following a proposes stock split and increased dividend.

General Dynamics rose more than two at the opening, then more than halved the gain. Burroughs, North American Aviation and General Electric, also involved in the Atlas project, were fractionally higher.

Thiokol, the rocket fuel stock, scampered ahead around seven at the start, then trimmed the rise to about four.

Chance Vought fell four.

Westinghouse Air Brake rose 3¾ but dropped about a point of this.

Eastman Kodak ran ahead around five. Renewed unconfirmed rumors of a stock split spurred buying.

Wide-moving Zenith fell about four and Raytheon dropped two. Pfizer was off more than two and American Motors about a point. Goodrich rose about two and Goodyear around one.

U.S. government bonds firmed.

Fire Burns Galion Garage, Contents

GALION — Fire Thursday night badly damaged a garage, a car inside it and the contents of the garage. The fire broke out at the rear of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Siclair of Smith St.

Mr. Siclair told Fire Chief John Durtschi that he was working in the garage, laid a light down on the workbench and went into the house. When he looked out a few minutes later, he told the chief, the garage was in flames.

Firemen battled the flames for about an hour. One side and the roof of the building were completely destroyed, and the remainder of the structure was badly charred.

Burned besides the garage and the 1951 car were a canoe, stepladders, bicycles and other possessions of the family. Mr. Siclair told firemen the loss was partially covered by insurance.

Fifteen Soviet students now are studying in five American universities.

Annual Christmas Dinner Party Held By Swink Agency

The traditional Christmas dinner party held last night at the Country Club for the families of employes of the Howard Swink Advertising Agency was attended by 114 people, including 47 youngsters under 16 years of age. The party was the 21st such annual affair given by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Swink.

Family dinner was served buffet-style, with a generous crop of moppets joining in at their highchairs. Following the dinner, Dr. Carroll Ritchey, ably assisted by Mrs. Richey, presented a program of magic which baffled and amused adults and children alike. Dr. Ritchey's wizardry included some magic rabbits which changed color and a spirited St Nick who went up and down a chimney without any apparent assistance.

Following the entertainment, a program of Christmas carols was led by Jack Lord. The program was climaxed by the appearance of Santa Claus who distributed gifts to the children present.

Table decorations for the festivities included colorful lighted candles, surrounded by sprigs of pine bough. Striking decorations glittered from the walls and on divider screens, while over the fireplace a large Santa Claus rode toward Christmas astride a reindeer.
